20-Inch Snow Blankets New York; Mansfield Streets Get Skid-Happy

Blizzard Claims 6 Lives

East Coast Shrouded

(Compiled From Wire Services)

NEW YORK — The third worst snowstorm in the city's history ended early today with a total fall of 19.6 inches.

Automobiles were stalled, trains ran late and airline schedules were disrupted by the 20-hour storm which began at 6:20 a. m. yesterday and ended at 2:10 a m. today. Some 18,340 city workers were busy digging out the streets.

"Everybody wanted a white Christmas," Mayor William O'Dwyer commented, "but this is too white."

Six deaths, all caused by overexertion, were attributed to the storm in the city.

The storm, centered 150 miles off Norfolk, Va., blanketed the Atlantic seaboard from Boston to Washington, D. C., with snow. The New York metropolitan area received the heaviest snowfall.

Weather officials explained this was the result of a collision over New York City of the Atlantic storm and another storm that moved in from the west.

The snow depth reached a maximum of 19.6 inches at 1 a. m., the weather bureau reported. Snow continued to fall but it began to pack and by 2 a. m. the measured depth had dropped to 19.5 inches.

Only the "big snow" of Dec. 26-27, 1947, when 25.8 inches fell and the three-day blizzard of 1888 when 20.9 inches were measured, exceeded the mark set by this storm.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Schools were closed today in some metropolitan area suburbs and in other states.

In Washington state avalanches of rain-loosened snow erected an icy barrier on Washington's main east-west highways today, blocking surface travel over the Cascade mountains.

The slides occurred during a storm that whipped in from the north Pacific yesterday, disrupting communications and snarling traffic in Washington and British Columbia.

One car was caught in a Sevens Pass slide and rolled 200 feet down a steep decline. Two Seattle youths were rescued from the wrecked car by ski patrolmen and motorists.

Half buried in the debris, the automobile was exposed just enough for the boys to be pulled through the shattered windows. Both were badly cut and bruised.

3 Appointed To Boards

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn today announced the reappointment of three men to three different boards and commissions.

Dr. H. K. Knierim, 61 North Mulberry street, was reappointed for a five-year term to the Mansfield board of health. He was first named to the board last year to fill the unexpired term of Dr. W. H. Wolford.

Glenn L. Bierly, 79 Glenwood boulevard, was reappointed to the park commission for a three-year term. He was named to the board earlier this year to fill the unexpired term of C. F. Hartman.

Carl Stough, 601 Grant street, was reappointed to a five-year term on the recreation board. He has been on the board for 12 years.

Naval, West Point Nominations Made

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two Dayton youths and one from Middletown are the nominees of Rep. Burke (R-Ohio) to go to the Naval Academy at Annapolis and the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

The Naval Academy nominee is Robert Olen Aller, Dayton. The Military Academy appointments went to Warren Talmadge Palmer, Middletown, and Roger Heering Miller, Dayton.

Minor Crashes Reported

The inch snowfall that blanketed the Mansfield area early yesterday made streets and highways slippery and caused a number of minor accidents.

Mansfield police received reports of eight "fender benders" caused by the slippery streets early Sunday morning.

The city and state had the "white Christmas look" but it was doubtful if the mantle would remain until Saturday. The weatherman forecast "no real cold."

The slippery conditions cleared up Sunday afternoon as the mercury climbed to 32, but the roads were glazed in the evening as the wet film froze over.

The state patrol reported early this morning that the roads in the county were slippery because of the light snow that fell this morning, but still passable.

Three city street department crews went into action at 5 a. m. yesterday, working until noon. Another crew worked around the clock, salting hills and intersections.

U. S. weather observers said the season's heaviest snow so far in Ohio ranged anywhere from nearly a half foot deep in the central and western sections to one inch in the southern portion. Snow continued to fall in Dayton and Columbus early today where it already had piled up to a depth of five inches.

The weatherman said there was "no real cold in store, and if anything the trend is toward a little warmer." He promised cloudy and mild weather today with a high of 37. The forecast for Tuesday was cloudy and milder followed by rain or snow by night.

The sudden change in the weather appeared to have checked the threat of floods in the southern part of the state. The state highway patrol reported that only seven roads were closed in spots by high water compared to 12 or more Saturday.

Observers at Cincinnati said the Ohio river hit a 50-foot level yesterday, but there was no serious danger of a flood.

Arrest One In Slaying

GUAM—(INS)—Guam police reported tonight they have taken into custody Terriel Meshew of San Antonio, Texas, for investigation in the assault-murder of Ruth Farnsworth.

The pretty former WAC, known as "the most beautiful girl on Guam, was engaged to marry a marine corps sergeant from Roundhead, Ohio, in Hardin county.

Police said that blood stained trousers and a towel with lipstick smears were found in his locker in Camp Pitt, a residence of civilian employes of Guam.

His roommate, John Green of Los Angeles, told police that Meshew came in the morning after the attack on Miss Farnsworth with blood on his trousers. Police reported Green told them that Meshew said he had "been in a fight with a woman" and expressed the desire to hide out "until the heat is off."

Newsboy Saves His Own Life

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(UP)—Doctors fought today to save the crushed foot of an 11-year-old newsboy who saved his life yesterday by cooly flashing an SOS with his flashlight to the crew of a freight train that had run over him.

Danold LaCasse was crawling under a car that blocked his path when the train began to move. His left foot was caught before he could scramble clear.

Donald fought off unconsciousness and signalled for help with his flashlight. The train crew saw the signal, halted the train and rushed him to a hospital.

2,000 Hear Carolers

Bleachers Crash In Central Park

By NITA BRANSON

Delayed briefly when bleachers collapsed under the singers, the second annual carol sing last night in Central park attracted nearly 2,000 persons and was acclaimed as more successful than last year's program.

No one was hurt in the bleachers crash and the Senior high students were equal to the occasion, Dick Butts, who directed the singing, was held up on the stalwart shoulders by two of his classmates. Senior and junior choirs who were to have stood on the bleachers, took their places behind Butts and the microphone to lead the caroling.

The crowd stood under the canopy of Christmas lights in the park. Many of them were carolers who had marched singing to the park from 14 different intersections of the city.

As the program began, Dick VanVoorhis, general chairman, welcomed the throng of singers. At the program's conclusion Tom Swisher, class president, thanked them for coming and wished them a merry Christmas.

The carol sing was termed a complete success, due largely to the public address system which carried the voices of the choirs to every corner of the park. It was an ideal winter night for the program.

Among the singers were hundreds who parked their cars to join in the caroling from the warmth of their automobiles.

Among the groups who took part in the singing caravan from outlying intersections of the city last night were: Park Avenue Baptist church, St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, both young people's and adult groups from the First Presbyterian, Sophomore Blue Tri, First Congregational, First Evangelical UB, Main Street Evangelical UB, First Christian, First Methodist, Senior Blue Tri, Senior Hi-Y, Mayflower Congregational, East Mansfield United Presbyterian, First Lutheran and Pavonia churches.

HE WASN'T MAD

MARBURG, Germany — (UP) —Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo testified today that she shot her soldier-husband three times because he threatened to kill her and then brought him water to ease his pain. "I saw he wasn't mad at me any more," she said.

Brighten A Christmas

Santa Needs Help Answering Letters

Many of Mansfield's less fortunate families will enjoy a chicken dinner with all the extras on Christmas day this year through the generosity of contributors to the News-Journal-Salvation Army Brighten a Christmas program.

However, there are still hundreds of less fortunate boys and girls who have written letters to Santa Claus asking for toys for both themselves and their brothers and sisters.

There also are a number of youngsters who will either be kept indoors during the current cold spell and the winter months ahead, or else be insufficiently clothed because they do not have the proper attire to ward off the cold breezes.

Many of these children have fathers who are regularly employed in Mansfield industries, but when there are so many youngsters to be fed each day at current food costs it's understandable that the clothing budget would be extremely limited.

Most of these youngsters are counting the days until Santa Claus visits their houses in the wee hours of Dec. 25, but unless some kind Mansfielders adopt the role of "Santa's Helpers," their Christmas stockings will be empty.

Further information on these families may be had by calling Mrs. Margaret Mattox at the News-Journal office, 4251-6, daily.

Spy Probers Call Sayre

BULLETIN

WESTMINSTER, Md.—(INS) —Whittaker Chambers declared today that Gen. Walter Krivitsky, communist underground leader, was murdered in Washington in 1941 because he had broken with the Soviet Union.

★

NEW YORK—(INS)—The spy-probing federal grand jury resumes its investigation in New York today with former Assistant Secretary of State Francis B. Sayre scheduled as its star witness.

Sayre, superior of Alger Hiss, who was indicted last week on two counts of perjury, was reported in Washington and it was indicated that he will ask the justice department to delay his New York appearance.

Sayre, who arrived in New York Sunday aboard the Nieuw Amsterdam from the United Nations meeting in Paris, was served with a subpoena soon after the vessel docked in Hoboken.

The former state department official said he would be happy to testify but needed time to "catch up" on the results of the investigation. Sayre registered shock at the indictment of his former aide and gave voice to the "implicit" faith he "had" had in him.

Lost Hunters Found Huddled Over Fire

WARREN —(INS)— Two Warren deer hunters, missing overnight in the woods north of nearby North Bristol, were back home again today.

The hunters, Dr. Hyde H. Storey, Warren osteopath, and William Palmer, were found yesterday huddled over a fire.

Court Seals Tojo's Doom

International Verdict Stands

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme court today refused to interfere with the international military tribunal which condemned former Premier Tojo and six other Japanese war lords to death.

The court by a vote of 6-1 decided it had no authority over the 11-nation tribunal.

With this decision the Supreme court turned down requests by convicted Japanese wartime officials that it:

1. Consider their appeals;
2. Declare the international tribunal illegal;
3. Order their immediate release.

The refusal presumably seals the doom of Tojo and the other six who were sentenced to die on the gallows. General MacArthur confirmed their sentences, but stayed the executions until the Supreme court acted.

Women Gab As Flames Burn House

NORWALK —(U.P.)— Jack Godfrey of Norwalk was convinced today that Nero would never have fiddled while Rome burned—he would have used the party line if it had been invented.

Godfrey discovered a fire in his home here Saturday night. He dashed to the telephone, but two women were gossiping. He pleaded as the blaze gained headway. No use.

A next-door neighbor finally succeeded in convincing the two women that it was an emergency. By the time firemen arrived, the home had been extensively damaged.

Seek Identity

TOOELE, Utah —(AP)— Authorities still sought the identities today of two of 13 persons killed in a western Utah bus collision. The crash of two Burlington Trailways buses occurred Saturday on fog-shrouded U S. Highway 40 about 63 miles west of Salt Lake City.

EX-SLAVE SUCCUMBS

DAYTON —(U.P.)— Luzene McCoy, a former Georgia plantation worker who was born a slave 107 years ago, died at the home of her grandson here yesterday.

LOS ANGELES—(AP) — Edgardo Simone, international known sculptor, has been taken by death. He succumbed yesterday to cerebral hemorrhage.

Atomic Research Blinds Workers

NEWTON, Mass.—(AP)—Deadly radiation from atom-smashing cyclotrons has nearly blinded several American scientists, according to Dr. Shields Warren, head of the Atomic Energy commission's medical department.

He said yesterday that "about five" scientists, whom he did not name, have apparently developed cataracts of the eye as a result of the effects of radiation on the lens.

Termed 'Serious Threat'

Committee Says UEW Union Communist-Controlled

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—House investigators charged today that CIO United Electrical Workers is a communist-controlled union which gives Russia a strong grip on America's vital electrical industry.

This presents a "serious threat" to national security and could result in "national tragedy," a House labor subcommittee reported after a lengthy investigation. The report was to be filed today with the full committee.

The report, released by subcommittee Chairman Charles J. Kersten (R-Wis), described the American Communist party as a "sinister apparatus controlled from abroad."

And with its domination of the biggest union in the electrical field; the report continued, the party has already "gained a strong foothold" in the strategic electrical industry.

The report noted that the electrical industry is conducting work on such vital defense matters as atomic energy and radar.

Communists, the report said, have seized control of the union's national office, executive board and paid staff and newspaper. They have also won domination over a number of district councils and locals, it declared.

The investigators emphasized that the "large body" of the UEW's 600,000 members are loyal Americans but said they nevertheless are under communist control.

The report said the Truman administration bears the chief responsibility for placing defense contracts in plants where the CIO union operates.

In this connection, however, it praised Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy commission for his order that General Electric company stop negotiating with the union in matters pertaining to atomic energy.

"The report recommends that heads of other federal departments do the same thing in similar circumstances," Kersten said.

The UEW is the largest of the CIO's left-wing unions and even CIO national officers have accused its leaders of communist sympathies.

During the subcommittee's hearings here, CIO Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey said the UEW leadership had sacrificed its interests to "promote the foreign policies of the Soviet Union."

The report on the UEW is only one of a series that the subcommittee will file on its investigation of subversive elements in trade unions.

Group Asks For Extra Evergreens

The problem of what to do with Christmas trees after the holiday passes has finally been solved.

A lack of brush on the newly-purchased game refuge of the Richland County Fish and Game association is hampering the construction of feeding shelters for wildlife. As a solution, members have issued a plea for left-over Christmas trees.

These will be scattered over the reserve, thus affording protection for wild animals and birds.

Dealers or others who have trees left over and wish to aid the association will have their problem cared for by calling 3318-6. Jim Burkhart, club president, will furnish a truck to call for the trees.

Dutch Press Indonesia Blitzkrieg

U. N. Postpones Consideration

BULLETIN

PARIS—(AP) — The Netherlands informed the United Nations Security council today today intervention is useless in Indonesia.

★

BATAVIA, Java —(AP)— Dutch forces continued to roll unchecked through Indonesia today in what so far has been an almost bloodless occupation.

In Java the Dutch raced ahead of their own time-table yesterday when airborne troops took the republican capital of Jogjakarta in the first hours of fighting.

Dutch casualty figures show they are meeting little Indonesian resistance.

Netherlands army headquarters said so far six Dutch soldiers have been killed and eight wounded. Three Dutch were wounded in the Jogjakarta seige, the report said.

A Dutch communique said virtually all the high Republican leaders were in Netherlands custody. Among those taken were Dr. Soekarno, president of the republic, Premier Mohamed Hatta, Foreign Minister Agus Salimi, former Premier Sutan Sjahrir, and Gen. Soederiman, commander of the Republican army.

The Dutch also announced that their forces had broken through old truce lines at several points in Java and Sumatra.

The Indonesian government, before Jogjakarta's fall, branded the Dutch land, sea and air offensive as a "dastardly" attack, comparable to the Japanese assault on Pearl Harbor.

Dutch authorities have described their offensive as "police action" against Indonesian terrorists.

PARIS—The United Nations Security council met in emergency session today on the outbreak of fighting in Indonesia but adjourned until Wednesday in the absence of the Russian and Ukranian delegates.

U. S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup had asked the emergency session be called for today following the air, land and sea attack by Dutch troops against the Indonesian republic. Australia associated herself with the request.

During the one-hour meeting today he argued against delay. Jessup said the United States feels "very grave concern" at events in Indonesia.

Hot Fighting Hits Tientsin

NANKING — (AP) — Heavy fighting was reported today on the flatlands around Tientsin, teeming metropolis of North China.

Premier Sun Fo announced the formation of a new cabinet pledged to fight on until an honorable peace could be obtained. Although he called it a "no surrender" cabinet, he did not rule out the possibility of a compromise with the communists.

Red forces severed rail and telegraph communications between Tientsin and its port city of Tangku. 27 miles down the Hai river, pro-government newspapers said.

Escapes Injury, Pays For Window

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Albert French thought he was pretty lucky last night after he fell from a third floor window of the Ford hotel and suffered only a slight scratch.

But when he walked back into the hotel, the manager insisted he pay for the broken window.

Wife Hurt In Crash At Utica

Auto Skids In Slush

Rex L. Bell, 67-year-old Mansfield used car dealer, died at 2:15 p. m. Sunday in Mt. Vernon Mercy hospital of injuries suffered about noon when his car skidded into a roadside monument near Utica. Snow slush was blamed for the accident.

His wife, Genevieve, 38, driver of the car, was treated at Mercy hospital for a cut above the right eye. Mr. Bell was one of nine persons who lost their lives in Ohio highway mishaps during the week end.

State highway patrolmen at the Mt. Vernon post said the accident occurred about 11:30 a. m. Sunday as Mrs. Bell attempted to pass a car on State Route 13. Officers said it was believed the Bell car hit a slushy place in the road and skidded into the Campbell monument, approximately 200 feet north of the Utica corporation line.

Death was due to a fractured skull, officers said. The Bells reside at 260 Park avenue west.

Born July 9, 1881 in the Bell settlement near Utica in Knox county, Mr. Bell was the son of Leaman Bell, pioneer resident of the area.

DEALER 35 YEARS

A used car dealer for 35 years, Mr. Bell had been a resident of Mansfield for the past 16 years.

Active in Masonic work, Mr. Bell was a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the Scioto consistory, Valley of Columbus, the Richland County Scottish Rite association, and the Blue Lodge, F. and A. M. of Utica.

Besides his wife he is survived by three children, Mrs. Donald Fike of Ashland; Miss Ida W. Bell of Columbus and Samuel Bell of Canton, also one grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Bell church near Utica with burial in the Bell cemetery. Friends may call at the Wolford funeral home after Tuesday noon.

Two other accidents in the Mansfield area resulted in serious

Mail Rush Arrives

Despite the late development of the Christmas mailing rush and the bad weather for foot carriers, the Mansfield post office had everything under control today.

Acting Postmaser Curtis L. Ford said that by 7 this morning the backlog of letters and cards which piled up over Sunday had been processed for delivery. Post office employes were handling mail rapidly today, and letters were going straight from the cancelling machine to cases for distribution.

All parcel post which arrives at the post office by noon is being delivered the same day, Ford said.

Yesterday the post office made residential deliveries of both letters and parcel post. Foot carriers and parcel post trucks were out making deliveries for eight hours Sunday.

This morning 111 extra men and 13 trucks were being used by the post office to speed up Christmas deliveries. Ford said he still has four trucks in reserve which will be put into service if they are needed.

The extra employes are being used on foot carrier routes to help deliver mail. Experienced workers are working the mail at the post office for delivery.

However, 140,000 stamps were sold Saturday, 90,000 more than on that date last year, an indication that a number of Mansfielders still have not mailed holiday cards.

'Toy' Gun Wounds One, Kills One

KNOXILLE, Tenn. —(U.P.)— An elderly bridegroom was dead and his seven-year-old step-grandson critically wounded today as the result of twin shootings at a family celebration here last night.

Police said the older man, a bridegroom of one day, apparently shot the youngster by mistake with a pistol he thought was a toy. At that the boy's father grabbed the gun and wounded the step-grandfather fatally, officers said.

Doomed To Hang

SAPPORO, Japan — (UP) — An American soldier convicted of beating and kicking a Japanese to death because he refused to have any more drinks with him was sentenced to be hanged, today by a U. S. army court martial.

Cleveland Browns Win Third League Title

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) Some time late today the Philadelphia Eagles will be ready to celebrate their first National Football league championship.

It's going to take them that long to thaw out after beating the Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, in a driving snowstorm.

Their cleats clattered only slightly louder than their teeth chattered as they dripped into their dressing room after the game yesterday. The last guys wound up farthest away from the radiators. There were only a few scattered cheers. Faces and hands a raw tomato red from the wind and slashing snow and their uniforms sodden, they were glad that they had won—but even happier that the clock finally had run out.

"Cold," said Steve Van Buren, who scored the game's only touchdown, "I'll never get warm. And it seems that every time they tackled me I wound up with my face buried in the snow."

★

GREASY NEALE, the old Cincinnati outfielder, who was the winning coach, removed a hat which was trickling ice water down his neck and grunted "it's been doing that all afternoon. Man, I've never seen it any worse for football. Yes, I guess I have though, at that. It was a day just like this when I coached Ironton, Ohio, against Portsmouth in 1930 Only difference was, it was below zero then."

There was another difference, Neale grinned. "I lost that other game on two field goals by Frosty Peters."

Handsome Tommy Thompson, not quite so good looking now with a gash across the bridge of his bright red nose, was the only one who didn't think it was so bad.

"Didn't feel a thing after the first quarter," Thompson laughed. "I was numb."

★

IT WAS QUITE a while before the battered behemoths started to strip off their uniforms. They took even longer to remove the adhesive tape which covered most of them. At the end of a rugged season, they were patched together with miles of it.

And, while they showered, Neale gave most of the credit for the triumph to Thompson, who directed the team and did a lot of running, and the hard-driving Van Buren.

"The Cardinals would have been tougher on a good field, but I think we would have been, too," Neale said. "We had planned some new plays but we weren't able to use them because of the snow. So we beat them with the old plays."

An attendant stood on a trunk and announced that by winning, each Eagle player received $666 more than if they had lost

One burly player, huddled by now in an overcoat, barked, "that's the last time I'll ever take an hour's bath in ice water—at any price."

The agreement was just about unanimous.

Brown To Wrestle

CLEVELAND—(INS) — Orville Brown, national wrestling association champion, will face Dr. Ed Meske in the feature bout of a wrestling card tomorrow night in Cleveland

Paul Brown Says Squad Is 'Greatest'

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND — (AP) — While the dove of peace hovered hopefully today over a meeting of the National Football league and All-America conference in Philadelphia, this lakeside metropolis celebrated its fourth pro grid title in as many years.

The three-year-old conference sent five of its club owners, each with an olive branch in his hand, to the city of brotherly love for the confab with its older rival which up to now has refused to recognize the all-America's existence.

The Cleveland fans, however, weren't too interested in the woes of the warring circuits. They were too busy singing the praises of the home town Browns who romped over the Buffalo Bills, champions of the eastern sector of the all-America, by 49 to 7 in yesterday's title game.

UNBEATEN SEASON

That verdict rounded out an unbeaten - untied season for the Browns, who handed double defeats to the other seven clubs and topped it off with a workmanlike job on the Buffalo team in the payoff struggle.

STATISTICS	Buffalo	Cleveland
First downs	12	18
Net yards gained rushing	63	216
Forward passes completed	36	26
Forward passes completed	11	11
Yards forward passing	104	118
Forwards intercepted by	1	5
Yards gained runback of interceptions	2	80
Punting average	42	33
Total yards all kicks returned	51	105
Opponents fumbles recov	3	3
Yards lost by penalties	27	90

Just to make certain there was no question about who was boss, the proteges of Coach Paul E. Brown ran up their biggest count of the season, while holding Buffalo to its lowest total.

Brown, elated over his first clean season since 1940 when he dropped the reins at Massillon high school and went on to Ohio State, Great Lakes and then here, termed his champions "the greatest team I've ever coached."

He also said he was willing to meet the Philadelphia Eagles "any time and any place," but suggested the best time for a match with the newly-crowned National league kings would be in an exhibition just before the 1949 season opens.

WILL PAUL LEAVE

Asked if that suggestion contained a hint he would be boss of the Browns next year, instead of taking a collegiate job as has been rumored, he answered:

"I don't know. Next season is pretty far off, and right now I'm thinking avout a vacation in Florida."

Of Big Marion Motley, his 240-pound fullback who scored three touchdowns against the Bills, piling up 133 yards in 14 tries, Brown said:

"That Motley, he really was a snoot full, wasn't he? He's the greatest fullback in history, and that includes Bronko Nagurski."

Adverse weather cut the crowd to 22,981, smallest of the season here, and cut the winning players' individual share to $594 18, but Brown said his team was "fired to the limit"

"They were as anxious as a kid about to drive his dad's car for the first time," he said.

GET BIG EDGE

The Browns rushed off to a 28-0 edge, scoring once in each of the first two periods and twice in the third before the eastern champs registered on a 10-yard pass from Jim Still to End Alton Baldwin.

For the Browns Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones came up with the first touchdown on a four-yard plunge, and End George Young scored the second as he raced 18 yards with a recovered fumble. Quarterback Otto Graham passed eight yards to Jones for the third, and then Motley registered three in a row on rambles of 29, 31 and five yards.

Defensive Center and Capt. Lou Saban got the last one, jobbing 39 yards with an intercepted pass for his first counter in three years.

In three seasons of championship play the Browns have won 41 games, lost three and tied one. The Cleveland Rams won the National league title here in 1945, then moved to Los Angeles.

DOWN CARDS IN BLIZZARD—With snow falling on Shibe park, Philadelphia, at the rate of three inches an hour, a shivering crowd watched as Philadelphia Eagles' Pritchard (30) gains, five yards before being tackled by big Joe Coomer (50) of the Chicago Cardinals. The Eagles, with Steve Van Buren rolling up 102 yards on the ground, wrested the National Football league championship from the Cards, 7 to 0. Other players in the picture are Davis (31) and Bulger (11) in dark Cardinal jerseys; Sears (79), Ferrante (83), and Kilroy (76) of the Eagles, and Andros (68) of the Cards. Peace Is Object of Loop Meeting In Philly Today

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The first real effort to end the three-year professional football war between the National league and the All-America conference was to be made today

But the fiat announcement from the two leagues that their representatives will meet here to discuss peace terms brought a fresh flood of conjecture about how it can be accomplished.

The only definite information given out was the statement by Admiral Jonas Ingram, AAC commissioner, that Ben F. Lindheimer of Los Angeles, Dan Topping of New York, Arthur B. (Mickey) McBride of Cleveland, James Bheuil of Buffalo and Tony Morobito of San Francisco were on their way here to confer on a settlement. National league commissioner Bert Bell added a one-sentence confirmation.

SEASON ENDINGS

Both leagues ended their seasons yesterday with the Philadelphia Eagles emerging as champions of the National league and the Cleveland Browns winning the all-America Conference title.

The Eagles downed the defending champion Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, on a snow-covered gridiron here.

Cleveland took its third consecutive all-America Conference title by walloping the eastern division champion Buffalo Bills, 49-7, at Cleveland

There have been rumors the teams might clash in a playoff in New York Dec. 26, or possibly in Los Angeles. But whether anying along playoff lines would result from today's conference of rival moguls also was conjectural.

Teams of both leagues have reported financial losses due to rival bidding up of player salaries and competition at the gate.

Huge Bowler Wins In Rally

CHICAGO —(AP)— Huge Connie Schwoegler, making a big-time bowling comeback after shedding 60 pounds in the last year, but on a great rally last night to win the national individual all-star championship.

The 32-year-old sharpshooter from Madison, Wis., swept the last four-game block from Cleveland's Steve Nagy, firing games of 226, 236, 234 and 243 against his opponent's 193, 168, 216 and 193.

Schwoegler, who won the all-star crown in 1942, beat out 16 top-notch finalists in the 64-game round robin matches to pocket the $2,000 first prize.

Basketball 5's Have Holiday Travel Plans

NEW YORK —(AP)— If junior wrote that he'd be home from college for Christmas, it's a cinch he's not a basketball player. A large slice of college cage talent will be half a continent or more away from its usual firesides when the man with the whispers comes down the chimney.

Take a look at these travel plans:

Four Big Nine schools — Ohio State, Michigan, Northwestern and Wisconsin—will be on the west coast this week. Four Big Seven schools—Oklahoma, Colorado, Iiwo State and Nebraska—will be in the East. St. Mary's of California will be in Minnesota, Hamline of Minnesota will be in California.

Georgia and Georgia Tech will shiver in New York's blizzard while Pitt enjoys Miami's sunshine. Yale and North Carolina State will jump from coast to coast. Arizona will come as far east as Pennsylvania and South Carolina will journey as far north as Michigan. And there are many more.

CLOSE TO HOME

But one of the best games of them all may be one that's close to home—old Kentucky variety, that's it.

This contest matches the blue grass country's famous wildcasts against the green wave of Tulane at Louisville Wednesday night.

The cow palace at San Francisco, one of the newest arenas on the big time basketball circuit, draws some of the top intersectional games of the week.

Michigan (4-0), defending champion of the Big Nine, will meet Stanford (6-0) and Yale (4-0) will play St Mary's (1-2) there tonight. Tomorrow the clubs reverse opponents. And on Thursday North Carolina State (4-1) will play San Francisco (5-1) and unbeaten Hamline will meet Santa Clara.

Stan Musial Wins Third Bat Crown

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK—(AP)—Stan Musial, the priceless batting star of the St. Louis Cardinals, is being hailed today as the official batting champion of the National league for the third time in his illustrious career.

Musial posted a lofty .376 to win the batting derby in a breeze. He also paced the circuit in runs batted in, 131; runs scored, 135; hits, 230: total bases, 429: doubles, 46, and triples 18, according to final official averages. Musial's .376 average is the highest since Arky Vaughan posted .385 for Pittsburgh in 1935.

The Card star also hammered 39 homers, but Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner and New York's Johnny Mize beat Musial for homer honors by clouting 40 apiece.

NOT SINCE DUCKY

Not since Ducky Medwick, another Cardinal, led the league in batting in 1937 with a .374 mark has a player so dominated batting laurels as Musial. Medwick also showed the way in runs batted in, runs scored, doubles, hits, total bases and tied Mel Ott for the home run crown 11 years ago.

Musial became the fourth player in the league's history to capture the title three or more times. Honus Wagner, Pittsburgh's immortal, holds the record with eight. Rogers Hornsby is next with seven, copping six for St. Louis and one for Boston. Paul Waner is the other with three for Pittsburgh. Musial previously won the derby in 1943 (.357) and 1946 (.365).

The Card star, who finished 43 points ahead of rookie Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia in the batting race, also tied a major league and two loop records.

EQUAL OF COBB

He banged out five hits in one game four times during the season to equal the major league mark set by Detroit's great Ty Cobb in 1922.

Musial joined Hornsby, Ginger Beaumont and Jess Burkett for leading the league in hits the most times, four, and tied Wagner and Vaughan for pacing the loop in three-baggers the oftenest, three.

Tommy Holmes and Alvin Dark of the pennant winning Boston Braves followed Ashburn in the batting race. Holmes trailed Ashburn's .333 with a 325 mark. Dark came in fourth at .322, one point higher than Red Bird star Enos Slaughter's .321.

Rounding out the top ten were Jeff Heath, Boston, .319, Dixie Walker, Pittsburgh, .316; Andy Pafko, Chicago, 312; Myron McCormick, Boston, .303, and Bob Scheffing, Chicago, .300.

ALSO MAKE MARKS

Mize and Kiner also created records. Mize became the first National league player to hit 40 or more homers three times in his career. He slammed 43 in 1940 and 51 last year.

Kiner established a major league mark for leading in homers or tying for the leadership in each of his first three seasons in the majors. Kiner led in 1946 and tied Mize last season.

The scant remaining honors were won by Pittsburgh's Stan Rojek and Ashburn. Rojek, who along with Kiner and Musial played in all of their team's games—the only players to do so—led in singles, 150 and most times at bat, 641. Asnburn paced the field in stolen bases with 32. Pitcher Johnny Sain of Boston became the first hurler to lead in sacrifices. He made 16.

Cleveland Barons Win Two Matches

(By International News Service)

The stock of the Cleveland Barons stood a few points higher today after their week-end victories over the Providence Reds and the Buffalo Bisons.

Threats by owner Al Sutphin to make a few deals to strengthen the club resulted in a "rejuvenated" team which blasted the invading Reds, 10-6, in Cleveland Saturday and whipped the Bisons, 3-1, in Buffalo yesterday.

High School 'Star' Game Is Awarded

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The fourth annual Ohio scholastic all-star football game will be held in Cleveland next year, Ralph Ness, Lakewood high school coach, disclosed today.

Ness was appointed head coach of the north squad at the Ohio high school coaches association meeting in Columbus two weeks ago. He represented the Cleveland district in the bidding at the state capital last Saturday.

Ness said the date and place of the game still is undecided, but that he is planning to contact President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians about use of the municipal stadium for some time in August.

"If it wouln't interfere with the Indians' schedule, we'd like to schedule the game in either of the last two Saturdays in August," he said.

OUTBIDS PAIR

Ness added he had to outbid Barberton and Columbus for the contest. He carried pledges of support from both the Lakewood and Cleveland junior Chambers of Commerce as well as several private concerns.

The biggest expense, according to the Lakewood coach, is the signing of one or two "name" coaches to conduct the week-long clinic that precedes the game. Frank Leahy and Paul Bixler headed the clinic as well as coach-teams in the first contest at Toledo in 1946, while Ray Eliot of Illinois and Ohio State's Wes Fesler did the same at Canton in 1947.

Chuck Mather of Hamilton (now coach at Massillon) and Harry Strobel of Barberton were the rival coaches this year.

Glenn (Tiger) Ellison of Middletown and Ray Schick of Newark will serve as co-coaches for the south squad in the 1949 game.

Retire? Old Connie Says Piffle

By SAM GAMBURG

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)—Venerable Connie Mack, 85 years young this Thursday has but one word of comment concerning reports he will finally retire from baseball:

"Piffle."

In a birthday interview Connie's latest denial of retirement was more brusque than usual because the "old man" thinks that 1949 is the year for his A's to win the American league pennant after a 16-year famine.

Connie refused to go out on any limb and flatly predict the Mackmen would win the flag and regain the heights achieved by so many A's teams in the past He put it this way

"Cleveland is the team to beat but that isn't the whole story of the 1949 race.

"Look at the strengthened Yankees, to say nothing of the Boston Red Sox."

Connie was obviously optimistic about the A's, though The Mackmen, you remember, were the sensation of the American league last season and battled for the pennant until the fading weeks of the race.

Said Connie:

"As far as my club is concerned —well, it will be much stronger next year because we strengthened ourselves at the Major league meetings by adding to two departments in which we were weak last season — pinch-hitting and reserves

Connie appears in fine health despite his advanced years. He is quite active and remains the controlling power behind the A's And continues to be his one great love.

That's easy to understand, for the story of Connie Mack is the story of baseball for the last 60 years

The game's triumphs have been his triumphs, its tribulations, his tribulations and its glamour, his glamour

But he loved the game more than victory Twice during his dazzling career he wrecked great baseball machines "for the sake of the game."

Now he's hoping to see his dream of that "one last pennant" come true.

Eagles Defeat Cardinals, 7 to 0, In National

Ankle Deep Snow Retards Progress

PHILADELPHIA—(UP)—Every man on the Philadelphia Eagles was entitled to a $1,540 prize today and there was no one to say that they hadn't earned it the hard way.

That's the sum of money the Eagles earned for themselves when they beat the Chicago Cardinals yesterday, 7 to 0, to win the National Football league championship while a howling snowstorm spread seven inches of snow across the field.

There was no disputing that it was the worst weather in the 16-year history of the league's playoffs. Slipping and sliding in the ankle deep snow, the players were soaked to the skin and frozen to the bone throughout the game. A stiff wind kept lashing their faces with snow.

As consolation for their loss, each Cardinal picked up $874. It was the Eagles first win over the Cards after five losses in two years, the Eagles' first title, and the eastern division's first win since 1942.

In an afternoon of amazing happenings, the players joined a ground crew of 50 to help slide the protective tarpaulin from the turf. They tugged at the heavy canvas while the stands chanted a methodical "Heave Ho." The field lights were turned on before play began.

Snow wiped out any trace of lines for measurements and agreement was reached beforehand that the referee's judgment on close yardage would be accepted. Three alternate officials stood on the sidelines and end zone as markers for the play on the field.

On this misplaced toboggan run, where ball handling was so precarious only two punts were caught, a fourth-period touchdown by the Eagles' Steve Van Buren turned the championship tide.

MILE-WIDE HOLE

He burst from the five yard stripe when the right side of the Eagles' line, magnificent all day, opened a mile-wide hole in the Cardinal forward wall in 53 seconds of the final period. Cliff Patton converted his 51st consecutive point this season and his 67th straight in two years, including three playoff games.

There were four fumbles in the game—three by the Cardinals and one by the Eagles—and the winning touchdown was set up by Eagle Guard Frank Kilroy who recovered a Cardinal fumble on the losers' 17. The ball skidded away on a handoff from Ray Mallouf to Elmer Angsman, the hero of last year's playoff. Van Buren's touchdown surge came four plays later.

Kent State Flashes Look Like Hardwood Powerhouse

(By International News Service)

The fast-breaking Kent State Golden Flashes loomed as something of a powerhouse today on the Ohio college basketball horizon.

The powerful Flashes proved their ruggedness Saturday in easily smashing mighty Miami, 70-55, while chalking up their third win in four starts. Only a defeat at the hands of Westminster mars the state record.

All-Ohio guard Dale Haverstock and George Fulton paced the Kent attack, Fulton netting 18 points and Haverstock 17. Big Bob Brown helped keep Miami in the game with his 17 markers.

IN NEAR-UPSET

Western Reserve pulled the biggest near-upset of the week-end. The Red Cats went down before heavily-favored Colgate, 77-72, but only after putting up a strong fight all the way. Ernie Vanderweghe's 32 points proved too much for Reserve.

Bowling Green finally got back on the winning side of the ledger after dropping three straight. The Falcons knocked off Valparaiso, 72-44. Toledo edged Loyola of Chicago, 45-44, on the same card.

Akron kept its five game winstreak alive by whipping Ohio U., 59-56, Saturday.

Ohio teams emerged victorious in each game played against an out-of-state for, excepting the Reserve-Colgate battle. Cincinnati spanked Nebraska, 64-48, Mount Union defeated Albion, 61-53, and Fenn walloped Detroit Tech, 66-51.

In the one other all-Ohio game Saturday, Marietta whipped Youngstown, 63-56.

In tonight's features Dayton travels to Seton Hall, Toledo takes on Loyola of Los Angeles, Kent State travels to Adrian, Mich., and Akron battles Albion.

Tally Shows Deer Bag May Reach to 1,500 This Year

By RICHARD H. SMITH
(Associated Press Writer)

Had the snow which blanketed 13 northeastern Ohio counties today fallen a week ago, most of the deer in that area would be in freezers now, game wardens agreed as they toted up a record hunting season kill which may exceed 1,500 bucks and does.

The six-day season ended Saturday afternoon, but reports by the hunters will continue coming in all this week. A survey covering only eight of the 13 counties showed 1,200 deer shot—as many as went down during the 1947 season when only eight counties were open to the nimrods.

State conservation commission spokesmen said about 20,000 hunters were out with shotguns (and a few with bows and arrows) last week in pursuit of a deer population estimated at about 5,000. That the 5,000 figure is consevative, is indicated by the fact that automobiles killed 220 deer in the area this year before the hunters had a chance.

3—In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM to our beloved husband and father, Levi J. Henry, who passed away on December 18, 1946:

Two years have passed
Since we saw you last.
But our eyes still grow dim with tears
At the memory of
The wonderful love
You gave us through all the years.
Anything we would give
If you only could live
And smile at us as of old,
But God knew best
And He took you to rest
From your burdens of care untold.

Mrs. Lucille Henry,
Mrs. Lawrence Murphy,
Mrs. R. M. Savre,
Mrs. C. C. Hause,

U. S. Displays Interest In Japanese Constabulary

New Force Meets With Approval

Armed Group Seen Possible

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— High government officials showed growing interest today in a proposal to set up an armed constabulary force of 150,000 men in Japan to thwart any communist designs.

The proposal for such a force was first offered by Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, former aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo. MacArthur himself is reported to have called for a strengthening of Japanese defenses to bolster the position of the democratic government.

Some government officials, looking ahead to the time occupation troops quit Japan, believe it would be a mistake to leave the country with no army at all and only with the present police force of some 18,000 men armed only with pistols.

The Japanese constitution drawn up under allied supervision, forbids creation of any army and pledges the nation to international peace. An army constabulary force, it is maintained here, would not put Japan in a position to threaten world peace but would be a strong weapon to maintain internal order.

The United States still has reached no decision on whether to propose a Japanese constabulary force. Such a plan, however, would be almost certain to bump into Russian opposition on the Far Eastern commission which formulates occupation policy.

Even without the communist menace, according to some authorities here, a democratic Japanese government would need a strong security force to discourage the extreme right wing elements who were in power before the war.

Brief Illness Proves Fatal

Mrs. Katherine Hess Goettel, wife of John Goettel, of 959 Benedict avenue, died early Sunday at General hospital after a brief illness.

Born in Yugoslavia March 27, 1896, Mrs. Goettel came to this country in 1921.

Surviving, besides her husband, are two sons, George of Mansfield and John of Phoenix, Ariz.; two daughters, Mrs. Leonard Backley and Mrs. Joseph Fedorka of one brother Paul Hess of Germany and four sisters, Mrs. Henry Stefan of Germany, Mrs. Christian Dech, Mrs. John Welker and Mrs. Krucsay Andreas of Austria

Services will be held at 3 p. m. Tuesday at the Apostolic Christian church. Friends may call at the Wolford funeral home until time of services. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

T. A. Joy To Get Military Burial

Members of McVey Post of the American Legion will conduct military services for Thomas A. Joy, 52, of Mansfield, R. D. 6 at Mansfield cemetery at 2:15 p. m. tomorrow. Rev. John G. Gensel, Legion chaplain, will conduct graveside services at the cemetery. Friends may call at the Geiger funeral home until time of services injuries to a Mt. Vernon woman and in minor injuries to an Ashland couple.

Mr. Joy died Thursday morning at Crile Veterans' hospital, Cleveland, following a lingering illness.

In critical condition at Mt. Vernon Mercy hospital today is Mrs. Doris McDermott, 32, wife of George Anson McDermott, of Mt. Vernon, R. D. 2, who suffered internal injuries early Sunday when their car slid off the highway north of Mt. Vernon and crashed through a farm fence of Knox county prosecutor, W. Thurman Todd.

Mt. Vernon patrolmen said the mishap occurred at 3:45 a. m. Sunday. McDermott, well-known auctioneer, escaped injury.

HURT AT ASHLAND

Injured when their car crashed into a stalled car on U. S. Route 42 near Ashland Sunday were William Chance, 34, of Polk, and his wife, Bertha. Both were treated at Ashland Samaritan hospital for facial cuts and released.

The stalled car, officers said, was being pushed from the road by a Mansfield man and woman, identified as Theodore W. Morris, 954 Fairfax avenue, and Virginia Smith of the same address. Both narrowly escaped injury.

Chance told officers the stalled car was unlighted and that he did not see it in time to avoid the crash.

Four of the nine traffic fatalities throughout the state yesterday and today were attributed to icy highways.

Brinkerhoff Child Dies In Hospital

Funeral services for Keith Robert Brinkerhoff, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Brinkerhoff, 109 Arthur avenue, were to be held at 4 p. m today at the Jones Memorial with Dr. Charles F Sheriff officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

The infant died at birth at General hospital early yesterday.

He is survived by his parents; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harbaugh; and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. H M. Echelberger, all of Mansfield.

Belgium Plans Huge Military Base Near Congo Uranium Ore

BRUSSELS, Belgium — (AP) — The defense ministry of Belgium, an American ally in the projected North Atlantic defense pact, has announced that construction of a huge military base ball be started in the Belgian Congo next year.

The Belgian Congo at present is the world's largest producer of uranium ore used in development of atomic energy. The new base will be miles away from the Shinkolobwe mines in the southern part of the West African colony, however. The mines are operated by a private company.

One of the purposes of the new base is to create the nucleus of a technical operation center should Belgian European territory be completely occupied by an enemy in another war.

The base will include a training airfield, repair facilities for fighting planes, a school for pilots, a technical school for Negro soldiers and a field for maneuvers.

It will take four years to build, and may serve as the nucleus for an even more important military establishment in the future.

Negotiations are in progress in Washington on the draft of a North Atlantic pact binding the United States and Canada with the Western European union of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Illness Fatal To Mrs. Leech

Mrs. Mildred Leech, 52, of 424 Beethoven street, died yesterday morning at her home following an illness of one year. Born in Mansfield Nov. 7, 1896, she lived here all her life. She was the wife of Clarence H. Leech.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three sons, Robert and Norman of Mansfield, Richard of Shelby, R. D. 2, and one granddaughter. Other survivors are two brothers, Oliver and Theodore Brooker of Mansfield, and one sister, Mrs. Albert Smith of Shelby, R. D. 2.

She was a member of St. Luke's Lutheran church.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Wappner funeral home. Dr. Herbert S. Garnes, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran church, will officiate. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Frances Watson Succumbs at Shelby

SHELBY — Mrs. Frances May Watson, 77, died suddenly Sunday at 2:15 a. m. at the family home, 170 West Park drive. She was the wife of E. N. Watson. They would have celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary next Jan. 8.

She was born Jan. 22, 1871, near Greenwich, and spent most of her life in Shelby. Mrs. Watson was a member of the United Brethren church and active in church work.

Survivors, besides her husband, include a daughter, Mrs. J. S. Ruckman of Shelby and a son, Clarence of Monroeville; 16 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. in the Barkdull funeral home, with Rev. V. I. Sullivan officiating. Burial will be in the Oakland cemetery Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Deaths In Area

Rites Slated For Ashland Garage Man

ASHLAND — Services will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Heyl funeral home for Gloyd S. Swineford, 71, of 413 Perry street, auto repair garage operator for 25 years, who died suddenly of a heart attack Saturday at 5:30 p. m. Burial will be in Ashland cemetery.

Mr. Swineford's unexpected death occurred at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Swineford, of five miles northwest of Ashland. He had driven Mrs. Swineford to her home from Ashland shortly before his death occurred.

A native of Savannah, where he was born Sept. 9, 1877, Mr. Swineford was a former employe of the F. E. Myers a d Bro. company here after which he operated the repair garage on Perry street near his home. He was a member of the First Methodist church. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Kermit M. Leiby of Elyria; one sister, Mrs. Ida Sauers of Akron and one brother, George of Ashland.

Life Under Reds Said 'Puzzling'

Chinese Communists Prove Inconsistent

By JOHN RODERICK
(AP) Foreign Staff.)

Should the Chinese communists conquer China, what will it mean to the democracies of the west? What will be the effect on 450,000,000 Chinese?

The answers are difficult to arrive at. The Chinese Reds have been far from consistent in their past performances.

Economically, they preach the doctrine of a wider and more equal distribution of goods and possessions.

Yet the people in communist-held China are nearly as poor as they are in the government areas.

Politically, they say they stand for democracy.

Actually, their particular brand of this much abused product permits both a muzzling of the press and of completely free speech.

In foreign affairs, they say they will treat the western democracies on the same footing as Russia and her satellites.

But their propaganda is violently anti-American, often anti-British, never anti-Russian.

From a religious standpoint, they advertise freedom of worship.

As a matter of record, they have been guilty of atrocities against Catholics and Protestants alike.

Voters Pay $30.66 for Each And Every Law That's Passed

By SHELDON BINN

A law costs the city of Mansfield $30.66.

This figure was reached by dividing the number of ordinances and resolutions passed by city council this year, into the total direct costs involved.

Council's expenses included $6,000 for councilmen's salaries, $175 for stationery and printing and $100 for incidentals—a total of $6,275.

The Clerk of council's expenses totaled $3,500. Of that, $3,000 went for his salary, $50 for book binding, $250 for fixtures and furniture, $50 for stationery and printing, $50 for incidentals and $100 for serving notices.

Added to those expenses are $900 for legal advertising and $915 for the city solicitor's clerk who types up all ordinance to be placed before the legislators.

This year, council approved 378 ordinances and resolutions. The direct council costs totaled $11,590, or $30.66 per bill passed.

Perfume Explosion Makes City Sweet

LONDON —(AP)— Barrels of perfume exploded by a fire in a soap factory made suburban Acton the sweetest smelling place in England Saturday.

Well nigh overpowered by the waves of scent, firemen staggered and skidded through billowing soapsuds in a futile attempt to save the four-story building.

Farm Prices Worry U. S.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— How can farmers produce abundant food for the nation without kicking the props out from under farm prices?

That's the big problem confronting agricultural leaders attempting to work out a new farm program for the 81st Congress.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has said he is not entirely satisfied with the present law. He has said that too often farmers who have planted more than their production goals still have profited from price supports.

He believes better legislation than the present law is needed to help the man who cuts his acreage and at the same time withhold rewards from those who don't.

Recent agriculture department statements have stressed the administration's viewpoint that a long range, flexible support price program is essential to the national economy.

Hunter Loses Case

NEW PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— A hunter who claimed 100 pounds of venison from a deer he wounded but did not kill lost his case Saturday. Justice of the Peace Shonk ruled the meat belonged to Elmer Kirkpatrick, a farmer of nearby Bolivar, who killed the wounded animal when it ran into a neighbor's barn.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Now it's down to FOUR shopping days until Christmas—with the addition of tonight's opportunity, of course.

Pause, hesitate, reflect—are you sure you haven't overlooked anyone for whom you intended buying a Christmas present?

It is said of the new prince that he has "a peachy complexion, golden hair and the face of an angel"—in other words he looks like almost any other baby . . . as seen by its mother.

Entering a Busy Christmas Week

THESE final "shopping days" before Christmas will be busy ones in Mansfield stores, despite the large volume of buying already done, and while stores will be open evenings through Thursday, emphasis is still being given to the advantages of shopping in the forenoon hours, if possible.

Ample preparations for an anticipated large holiday business results in wonderful selections of gift items and staple merchandise still being available in Mansfield's progressive stores—as evidenced by the advertising messages being sent to you through The News-Journal.

As downtown traffic will be unusually heavy during the next few days, it is offered as a suggestion that bus and taxi service be used for convenience wherever possible, rather than attempting to find curb parking space in the business areas.

And, unpleasant as it may be, it seems advisable to warn people to be on the lookout for shoplifters and petty thieves who have no hesitancy in picking up an unguarded handbag, purse or parcel carelessly left on a store counter. Carefulness should also extend to locking cars in which packages have been placed, as this has become a common type of thievery when opportunity appears.

On the more commendable side of human behavior it is noteworthy that a gratifying response is being made to the "Brighten a Christmas" activity and that many families will thus be provided with the essentials of a pleasant Christmas—with particular thought for the children who might otherwise be deprived of joys associated with this season.

Dispute Over Scrap Aluminum

THE ARGUMENT about scrap aluminum in international trade is somewhat confusing to the layman. The Economic Co-Operation Administration claims that it has been advancing money to Great Britain, Belgium and Holland for purchase of aluminum and lead scrap, theoretically because they needed these metals, only to find that the three countries have sold some of the scrap in the United States, at a profit.

The European countries involved immediately protested their innocence of any violation of faith or of Marshall Plan agreements. To persuade Congress of their good faith, now the charge has been made, they might have to prove that they did not sell any of the disputed scrap, or at least not at any profit.

If, as American officials claim, scrap was bought in Canada under bilateral agreements, shipped to Europe and then shipped back to the United States, the thing is rather silly, regardless of the profit factor.

The whole European aid program will be injured if such transactions cannot be explained satisfactorily.

Housing Continues as Urgent Problem

GREATEST HOPE of many people, at the approach of a new year, is that 1949 will open the way for more families to enjoy the advantages of a comfortable home, instead of doubling up with relatives, living in a trailer or being driven—in desperation—to go deeply into debt to buy some sort of house at present extremely high prices.

It may be doubted, however, that a single year will be sufficient time in which to bring supply and demand anywhere near in balance, although some improvement can be reasonably expected if government, private industry, material suppliers and workers in building trades adopt a co-operative attitude.

The inflationary trend during the past several years, coupled with excess of demand over supply, has been particularly cruel to persons and families in the lower income brackets, and lack of decent housing has been the most disturbing problem of millions of people in cities all over the country.

A recent nation-wide survey, as reported by the United Press, revealed a falling off in construction and sales of new homes in a number of large cities—where the need is greatest—and it is noted that homes priced at $10,000 or more are hardest hit.

When it is taken into account that houses having an apparent value of somewhat under $5,000 are priced at $10,000, or more, it is understandable that only dire necessity would induce purchase by anyone who could not well afford such an expenditure.

High wages, high material costs, reduced production per worker—all of these things enter into claimed justification for the price pinnacle that appears to have been reached in residential property—and it may be hoped that when the break comes it will be in slow motion, rather than such a precipitate drop as would contribute to a serious depression, instead of a moderate recession.

The Neodesha (Kans.) Daily Sun takes the philosophic attitude: "Yesterday's crop of typographical errors was especially fetching," and stirs interest by adding: "There's no telling what may turn up tomorrow"—so have fun with the typographical errors . . . perfection has not yet been reached.

As Harry Wade views it: "There's nothing to picking an All-America eleven—it's spelling them right that takes time."

One suggestion is that a "fair labor law" would be one that neither side would like.

It is still questionable whether the chief glory of man is in terms of Miles per Hour.

What Some Other People Are Saying

TOM CLARK, U. S. attorney general: "(Communist espionage) is very hard to prove, and we feel that changes could be made (in the law) to aid prosecution."

LAWRENCE D. BELL, producer of the X-1, first plane to fly faster than the speed of sound: "The success of the X-1 has taught us much in the realm of speeds faster than sound that now makes it possible to build man-carrying airplanes with speed two or three times that of the X-1."

JOHN E. BIERWIRTH, New York banker: "Taxes are awfully high and people ought to get some relief."

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

MR. TRUMAN couldn't be more unconcerned about the spy inquiry if Gallup was asking the questions.

* * *

But this is a confusing season. . . . It's difficult to dream of a White Christmas and stay awake to a Red menace at the same time.

* * *

Incidentally this is the week during which the girl who hoped for a ring for Christmas finds that no one has given her a ring since Thanksgiving.

* * *

By custom and precedent it will be mid-January before the bachelors come down out of the hills again.

* * *

However, a New York jurist is working for a law to tax bachelors. It's not clear whether he is interested in promoting matrimony or paying off the national debt.

* * *

If the law is passed it is expected that thousands of bachelors through the nation will do the right thing . . . pay the taxes.

Defects In Moral Code

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—This is purely philosophical, entirely irrelevant, and not at all original—but the thought that keeps nagging at you as you watch the melodrama of the so-called "spy cases" unfold here is the juvenile and cops-and-robbers level at which nations still deal with each other in this stage of the world's civilization and history.

It seems to be getting very late for that sore of stuff, but that, of course, is just one man's opinion.

Anyhow, with all the trouble the world has got itself into, it is worth pausing a moment to ponder, even if no good comes of it.

Governments supposedly represent the people in any country. Yet governments, as such, go in for stealing each other's papers and secrets, and rilling each other's desks and safes, in a way that individuals would not even think of doing and which individuals have not tolerated among themselves for many, many years.

It is still considered perfectly proper, in fact absolutely essential, for governments to do those things. It is ally right for a government to be a sneak thief, a liar, a cheat—and all do it from time to time—and under the respectable cloak of national honor.

In such a world, naturally, every government must lock its door against every other government. The society of nations has an entirely different moral code from that of the society of individuals. That code applies to all nations. One which didn't do it would be considered extremely simple and naive.

* * *

Punished as Criminals.

THERE are in all societies, of course, the incorrigible few who break into houses, rifle desks and safes, blackjack innocent persons on dark streets at night, and do other such things, but they are regarded as outlaws and when apprehended are punished.

Individauls within each community and each nation got together centuries ago and passed laws against such depredations and set up police forces to catch this criminal minority and courts to try them and jails in which to lock them up.

A respectable family man who is kind to his wife and children and friendly with his neighbors becomes an entirely different person when he becomes a secret agent for his government.

At home, in his neighborhood, he is the same. But in his job he adopts the entirely different code of nations. He breaks into offices of other governments, and into homes, and for it becomes a heroic figure to his own government and people, though a criminal, of course, in the eyes of the nation and people who are his quarry.

Every so often, some of these agents get caught at their work, as in the cases of the Canadian spy ring and the spy ring in our own country, and the stories of their operations and the way they enlist dupes are more fantastic than any fiction written about the subject.

We all read it avidly and excitedly and find it hard to believe, because as individuals we would never do such things to each other. It brings back boyhood games — that always were just games.

You are inclined to believe every story, some of which carry no documentation whatever. For you know that nations still act that way toward each other here well into the twentieth century.

When will nations ever grow up and treat each other as individuals do, and adopt the common code of ethics toward each other that individuals have followed for centuries, and pass laws formalizing that one code for all nations and establish a police force to catch offenders and courts to enforce the common law?

Praise of 'No Other Star'

Editor News-Journal:

Jane Williams is to congratulated for producing a novel with word pictures so true to life that the reader becomes unconsciously a part of the community which is so wonderfully portrayed, even though it is fictitious.

Stop and think for a moment and the characters come to life and you find yourself in Morralton, hobnobbing with its people, discussing current events, the pleasantries, the heartbreaks, the ambitions and all the details that go to make up the life of a community.

Following the lives of the characters she portrays is like a flowing stream with its quiet undisturbed moments, then the turbulence created by obstructions.

The love story of Lisbeth Lee and Kirby is a masterpiece. It is fascinating. Mrs. Williams touches on sex but without the vulgarity used by some authors. She presents this picture in words that do not offend.

If a better novel is written, Jane will write it. She has worked hard to produce "No Other Star." She has reached her goal and I believe from now on the highway to success is hers.

I believe I reflect the voice of the people of our splendid city when I say, "We are proud of Jane Williams, who has placed another star in our crown of progressiveness along cultural lines.

How Colors Affect Folks

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WE have all seen colors best described by the word "depressing," but few of us would believe that working in surroundings where such colors predominate could result not only in reduced efficiency but actual physical sickness.

And yet, this may very well be true. Dr. Paul Seagers of Indiana University is convinced of it, finding in our poor use of color in our homes, offices, and factories a clue to much of the irritability, depression and slackness attributed by many to the presence of modern living.

He believes that our emotions and mental health are affected by colors to the same extent as by sounds and odors, and that this emotional disturbance may be reflected in such physical symptoms as headache and nausea.

Relaxing Colors.

And if certain colors can do harm, others can help. High-strung, emotional people, for example, should work and live in rooms in which the colors are relaxing, while people who tend to be depressed should frequent rooms in which the colors are light and stimulating.

For example, in most business offices, the filing cases are dark green, the desks are dark brown, and the walls are a dark color. It would be better to have light-colored furniture and light-colored paint.

In school rooms, it has been found that changes along this line have produced amazing improvement in the work of both teachers and pupils.

Not only must colors be considered, but also lighting. Of course, all places where people work and live must be well lit, with not too much glare.

Experiments have been carried out to indicate that blue or white light do not stimulate muscular activity. Green, yellow, and orange increase it to some extent, and red light is particularly effective. These colors seem to have an invigorating effect, both mentally and physically.

Blue and green colors are recommended for reception rooms, waiting rooms, and executive offices. In a room where a great deal of work is carried out, warmer peach colors, red, and cream color may better be employed.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Lobby Plots To Block Housing Measure

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Dynamic Maury Maverick, ex-congressman from San Antonio, revisited his old Washington haunts the other day and in the course of things called on President Truman.

Maverick first knew Truman when the latter came to Congress, a very green, inexperienced Senator from Missouri. Last week he talked to the President in the same blunt way he talked to him in 1934.

"Mr. President," said Maury, "you're a big shot now. You used to feel sorry for yourself, but you've been re-elected under your own steam now, instead of being sorry for yourself, we want you to be sorry for us."

"Maury," replied the President, "I'm just a humble man."

"No, you're not," countered the Texan. "You're a big shot, and you've got to do something for we, the people. You've got to give us a great administration. How about starting off with kicking out some of these generals."

"Poor General Marshall," mused the President. "He's just had his kidney cut out."

That was all Maverick could get out of Mr. Truman about the military men who play such an important part in his administration.

Lobby's Latest Move.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN would be interested in a letter which his top economic council housing adviser, Robinson Newcomb, has just received from the head of the real estate lobby.

Written by Herbert U. Nelson, vice president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, the letter reveals how the lobby plans to thwart the President's public housing program in the next Congress.

Chummily addressed "Dear Robbie," it may be significant that "Robbie" is the man inside the President's economic council who recently proposed a 15 per cent raise in rents across the nation.

In the letter, lobbyist Nelson makes the amazing claim that the real estate lobby never did anything to defeat public housing in the last Congress.

"The present public housing program has gone sour from every point of view and ought to be abandoned," Nelson contended. "Nobody can pretend it is serving, or ever will serve, those who need it. It has become merely a job-holding bureaucracy.

"I do want to get rid of this foolish talk about the real estate lobby. Of course, it is all nonsense. We have never asked anything for ourselves."

To defeat the Taft-Ellender-Wagner public housing bill for low-cost rental construction and slum clearance, Nelson discloses that the real estate lobby will attempt to sell Congress and state legislatures on an alternate plan, calling for a state-controlled "co-operative housing" program, with the federal government sharing a big part of the cost, but having no voice in the administration.

* * *

Lobby's Counteroffensive.

NELSON makes it clear that the real estate lobby wants its "program" administered by state and local authorities, which real estate interests can control, rather than by federal housing authorities, subject to the President and Congress.

Like a general who has the enemy at bay, but wants to be conciliatory in his "surrender" terms, Nelson adds this supposedly subtle touch:

"It is seriously worthwhile for the administration to give thoughtful consideration to this (the lobby's) program. . . . No one needs to lose face if we will think about the problem to be solved.

"I wish you would talk to Leon Keyserling (economic council member) about this matter. He is an able man, but I recognize that some pride of authorship in connection with the present (Taft-Ellender-Wagner) public housing program might make it difficult for him to change.

"If you think I should do so, I want to talk to him as well as you, to go into the details of this great (the lobby's) program and see if we can't work out something fresh that everybody can be for."

* * *

Advice To Senator.

SAVVY, young Senator-elect Lyndon Johnson of Texas called at the White House the other day and gave the President a graphic picture of flood control and public power operations in Texas. In return, he received some presidential advice on how to be a good senator.

"Lyndon," said the President, "I want to see you make as big a success in the Senate as you did in the House. Speaking as a former senator myself, with ten years experience, maybe I can give you a few pointers.

"My advice to you is to work hard and take your full load of responsibilities. Your experience in the House will help you, but don't count on it. Get yourself appointed to committees for which you are best fitted and where you can perform the greatest service. Never miss a committee meeting.

"Give it all you've got," added Truman, "and the headlines will come later."

Johnson, a two-fisted pioneer for rural electrification and flood control, revealed that the four dams on the Colorado river soon would be increased to eight, without any handouts from Congress. Electric power revenues from the four existing dams, plus a state bond issue, will finance the new projects.

How Spies Are Secured

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Why would an American, particularly one working for the government, become a spy for Soviet Russia?

Although Whittaker Chambers says some former government officials did such spying before the war, no one has been charged with that.

But Chambers' own story might provide an answer to the question—if there was spying by officials.

Chambers is an educated man. Some people who worked with him on Time magazine have called him a "great intellectual."

(He joined the magazine after quitting the Communist party in 1938 and was senior editor when he resigned about a week ago.)

Chambers explains in these words why he became a communist and worked against his own country:

"I had joined the Communist party in 1924. No one recruited me. I had become convinced that the society in which we live, western civilization, had reached a crisis . . . and that it was doomed to collapse or revert to barbarism."

He says he thought communism could save it. So he joined the party. He quit 14 years later, he says, when he decided communism really means slavery. And he says he told some one at the time:

"I know that I am leaving the winning side for the losing side, but it is better to die on the losing side than to live under communism."

The government officials he now accuses of having been members of the ring with him are, like him, educated men, some brilliant.

They've denied his story. So there is no explanation of why a government official here would work for Russia against the United States.

* * *

Canada's Experience.

BUT THE Canadian government a couple of years ago smashed a Soviet spy ring there among government officials and convicted at least 10.

The Canadian government, working through a special royal commission, rounded them up and got confessions.

In its report it gives some explanation of why those Canadians betrayed their own government.

And those explanations probably would be the same here if this country ever proves there was a Soviet spy ring here. The report says:

"Perhaps the most startling single aspect of the entire fifth column network is the uncanny success with which the Soviet agents were able to find Canadians who were willing to betray their country and to supply to agents of a foreign power secret information to which they had access in the course of their work, despite oaths of allegiance, of office, and of secrecy which they had taken.

"Many of the Canadian public servants implicated in this espionage network were persons with an unusually high degree of education, and many were well regarded by those who worked with them in agencies and departments of the public service, as persons of marked ability and intelligence."

The report says that money—bribes from Russians in Canada—had nothing to do with getting the Canadians to be spies in the first place, although some of them took money later.

Why, then, did these educated and trusted Canadians act as spies against Canada? The report gives a couple of reasons:

1. They had been part of study groups that discussed Russia and communism and through that were swung over to a belief in it.

2. Having reached that point, they were communists or sympathizers and felt that the spying they did was for the good of the thing they believed in.

As one of the spies later said under questioning, the Canadian spies were, "idealistic." At least, he says they thought they were.

Timely Editorial

Mistreating a Child.

Maybe those Georgia Ku Kluxers thought they would help their group's standing with the public by dressing up a little girl in a miniature bed-sheet outfit and planting her in the middle of a group photo.

To us this is as degrading a picture as has appeared in the news in many months. It is depressing enough to know that children are being reared by people with the Ku Klux cast of mind and fed their ideas. And, parenthetically, there must be plenty of them since Ku Kluxers have children like everyone else.

It is worse to see a sweet-faced youngster used as a sympathy-catching stooge by a group whose philosophy and methods of putting them into practise are malign and ugly and un-American.—Columbus Dispatch.

Enjoying a Rainy Day

By CALVIN A. BYERS

LAST YEAR at this time we were having zero weather. "A dull gray bitterness of cold," followed by snow and roaring north winds that tore through the bare limbs of forest trees, making them creak and groan.

Today it rained all day. Yesterday the same. Birds alighted upon the grassy lawn to feast upon fishing worms. Downy and hairy woodpeckers climbed the well-soaked bark to search for white juicy borers. Bluejays screamed and lit among clumps of bluegrass. The bees were in "cleansing flight"—ridding the hive of waste and themselves of their torpor—when the sun came out of the clouds for a half hour about midday.

Wheat fields planted late are greener now than in late October—have never ceased to grow. The wheat fly will not enter fields sown late and doing well.

Such warm rain is unseasonable, yet it has its virtues. Porous soil will be soaked down into the subsoil. Streams long dried up are filled and flowing. Falling moisture carries gases out of the air, also dust and vital substances . . . mould spores, bacteria, volcanic ash. Sometimes the fallen rain appears to effervesce from worm burrows and hollows.

When the warm soil is saturated and winter settles down to freeze long deep ice needles in the earth, the cold goes deep and when it gently leaves in spring the soil is mellow, fragrant, loose and moist, so that plowing is a pleasure. Deep frosts are nature's plowman.

I know it will get colder tomorrow. Then there will be work to do. Today it rains. It is fine to sit by a window and pore over some slow mental chore. It is fine just to sit and watch the fog creep down the hillsides, and rain out of the fog, and the wheels of a car going by wear a whisking fog rim. . . It is fine just to sit.

It will be a fine day at the blacksmith shop in the village. A fine day for slow, peaceful talk while the sparks fly up and the smell of singed hair and new shavings and red hot steel and the clang of the forge.

HARRIET SMOTHERMAN WED TO JACK SHELLHAAS

Formal Ceremony Solemnized Sunday Afternoon At 3 O'Clock at Grace Gospel Church.

BEFORE an altar banked with ferns and palms Miss Harriet Smotherman, daughter of Mrs. Flora Smotherman, 226 East Third street, became the bride of I. Jack Shellhaas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard I. Shellhaas, U. S. Route 42-N, Mansfield, yesterday at 3 p. m. at the Grace Gospel church.

The Rev. James E. Davey officiated for the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Robert Hahn presented a program of piano selections preceding the service. Alfred Hahn sang and Harold Byers played the organ for the wedding march and recessional.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Frank Smith, the bride wore a gown of white satin fashioned with a pearl trimmed sweetheart neckline. The bodice was also pearl trimmed and she wore a single strand of pearls. Long pointed sleeves covered the arms, and the skirt terminated in a train. A fingertip illusion veil was secured to a pearl crown. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Miss Marjorie Smotherman, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was gowned in blue taffeta with a bustle back. A net neckline, extended beyond a taffeta bertha. She carried a corsage of white carnations on a white Bible.

Misses Sarah Shellhaas, sister of the groom, and Eudie Smotherman, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaids. They both wore fuchsia taffeta gowns and carried flowers similar to that of the maid of honor's.

Sue Eileen Shallhaas, sister of the groom, was flower girl. She chose a green taffeta gown with a ruffle neck and full skirt.

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe street length dress with accessories. On her shoulder was a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a brown dress with matching accessories, and flowers like those of Mrs. Smotherman.

Orbb Thompson, of Bowling Green, a college friend of the groom, served as best man. Russell Fisher, Robert Hahn, Harold Heilman and Ed Schmidt, friends of the groom, acted as ushers.

The reception was held at North Lake pavilion immediately following the ceremony. Approximately 150 guests were entertained in the hall decorated with white crepe paper and bells. The table was centered with a six-tier wedding cake flanked with two bride and groom candles.

The bride changed to a navy blue gabardine suit with matching accessories for her honeymoon trip to Detroit. When they return they will reside at 55 Douglas avenue.

The new Mrs. Shellhaas was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and attended Nyack Missionary Training Institute for one year. She is employed as a stenographer at the Ohio Brass company.

Mr. Shellhaas was graduated from Madison Senior high school and Ohio State. He is an accountant at Morgan's Cleaners & Furriers.

Miss Childs Feted With Showers

Miss Patricia Childs was honored at a party given by her two bridesmaids, Miss Ilene and Miss Irene Hoffman, Elmwood drive. Twelve guests were present at the nuptial shower. Miss Pat Sarbry from Cleveland was the only out-of-town guest. Miss Child's maid of honor will be her sister, Miss Shirley Childs.

Games were the diversion of the evening with the prize winners presenting their gifts to Miss Childs.

A Christmas tree, with notes pinned to it, told the honoree where to locate her shower gifts.

When refreshments were served at a late hour, the house was lighted with candles. Christmas decorations were used throughout the Hoffman home.

Miss Childs is the bride-elect of Roger B. Yeardley. They will exchange nuptial vows December 21 at 2:30 p. m. in the First English Lutheran church with the Rev. C. P. Mitchell officiating. Open church will be observed with the nuptial music beginning at 2 p. m.

Miss Childs is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Vinton G. Childs, 568 Garfield place, and Mr. Yeardley is the son Mrs. Caroline and the late Dr. N. P. Yeardley, Parkersburg, West Virginia.

Tonight, Mrs. L. E. Parker, the bride's aunt, will have a rehearsal party for the group at her home, West Park boulevard.

Alfred I. Harrington Post Welcomes Nine New Members

MRS. VIRGIL HAGEMAN, president of the Ladies' auxiliary to the Alfred I. Harrington Post, No. 3494, presided for the opening ritual and business meeting Friday evening in Memorial building. Thirty-six members were in attendance.

A $15 basket of groceries was given to a needy veteran's family for Christmas. A donation of $50 was sent to six veterans hospitals. They are Dayton, Crile, Massillon, the Soldiers and Sailors home in Sandusky and Vetsville. A gift of money was also sent to the Volunteers of America.

Mrs. Harold Adams, chairman of the Cancer Research fund, gave a report. Mrs. Harlan Weimer thanked the auxiliary for the $15 bond purchased for the Richland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Nine new members were given the obligation by the chaplain, Mrs. Elizabeth Harter. The group included Miss Bertha Shill, Mrs. Marie Shill, Mrs. Robert Flynn, Mrs. Charles Abbott, Mrs. A. F. Steiner, Mrs. Calvin P. Cobb, Mrs. Frederick D. Smith, Mrs. Mary A. Schettler and Mrs. Gladys Underwood.

After the business session a social hour was enjoyed. Fifteen boys of the Grace Episcopal church choir sang three groups of Christmas carols. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Dean Eckert.

The group had a Christmas exchange with Santa Claus present. Santa Claus was portrayed by Virgil Hageman, member of the post.

Mrs. Walter Yoder and her committee, Mrs. Harold Adams, Mrs. Weimer, Mrs. Wolf, Mrs. Paul Oney, Mrs. Margaret Welty and Mrs. Harry SirLouis, served a lunch buffet style from a table decorated with Christmas appointments. The gift table was centered with a small Christmas tree.

The next meeting will be Jan. 7 at 8 p. m. in Memorial building.

Two Local Sororities Give Christmas Parties, Rituals

BETA PHI MU sorority members held their annual Christmas party and formal installation of officers Friday evening at the home of Mrs. E. A. Pagnard, 40 Douglas avenue. Twenty-two attended and participated in the service which was in charge of the retiring president, Mrs. Dale McKinney.

Mrs. Dolen Goodner was installed as president; Mrs. Jack Herring, vice president; Miss Jeannette Baker, secretary; Mrs. James Dopps, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Addlesperger, sergeant-at-arms.

Miss Betty Jona was chairman of the party arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Waldon Diloia and Mrs. Jane McBride.

The impressive ritual was by candlelight.

The program period included a vocal solo by Miss Betty Pagnard, who was accompanied by Mrs. William Hazeltine. Mrs. Edward Starky told a Christmas story and Mrs. Robert E. Phillips gave a Christmas prayer.

Santa Claus distributed gifts. Games were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Dale McKinney, Mrs. Starky, Mrs. Charles Guinn and Mrs. Goodner.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served with the table beautifully decorated with appointments in keeping with the season.

Circle One Entertained

Eleven members of Circle One of the Central Methodist church met Thursday afternoon for a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. G. D. Vonada, 107 Leppo Lane. Mrs. C. P. Nye served as associate hostess.

A dessert luncheon was served at 1 p. m. with attractive Christmas decorations used to trim the table. Miniature Biblical scenes also decorated the home.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Earl Hartley, whose topic was "What Is Christmas?" Mrs. Hartley, vice president, presided for the business session.

"To Springvale for Christmas" was the title of the reading given by Mrs. Grant Ward. At the close of the social hour a gift exchange was held.

Christmas Party Held By Auxiliary

The annual Christmas party of the Liberty Park auxiliary was held recently at the pavilion. Forty-seven members were seated at a long table trimmed with Christmas decorations. Mrs. George Marshall and her committee of six prepared the dinner.

A short business session was held during which time bills were passed for the group to pay one half of the cost for a new tool shed. A donation was made to the tuberculosis fund.

The remainder of the evening was spent in games.

The next meeting will be held January 5 at the pavilion. Hostesses will be Mrs. Freda Schulte, Mrs. Leo Powenski, Mrs. Mike Stevens, Mrs. Walter McEvoy, Mrs. Jake Miller and Mrs. Grace Pocock.

Most of the silver marked Revere was made and sold after the Revolution.

Western Star Riding Club Has Christmas Party at Sky Club

A CHICKEN DINNER was served to sixty members and guests of the Mansfield Western Star Riding club Saturday evening at their annual Christmas party held at the Sky Club. A large Christmas tree was placed in the room and decorations in the holiday theme were used throughout the club.

Neil Eggerton, past president, introduced the new president, Harry Williams, and all the other new officers present.

Mrs. Richard Williams and Miss Shurlene Scheurer played the accordions for the group Christmas carol singing. Kay and Karen Alexander and Marilyn Duff gave several dance specialties.

Round and square dancing was enjoyed by the members. Alfa Eggerton and his Boys presented the music for the group.

A Christmas exchange was held later in the evening.

Out-of-town guests were from Cleveland, North Fairfield and Ashland, Ohio.

Mothers Given Christmas Entertainment

The Springfield Township Mothers' club held a Chrisamas exchange at its meeting with thirty-six members present.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Joseph Poffenbaugh, president. Plans were made for the group to fix food baskets for Christmas.

Mrs. Lawrence Flenner won the club prize. The room award went to the seventh grade.

A musical program, directed by Herbert Krishbaum, was presented by the following pupils; Kathleen Perry, Tommy Ebbert, Richard Rupp, Dean Strominger, Dennis Berr, David Malaby, James Zehner, Gene Henke, Dwight Rader, Patty Hall, David Buchanan, Sue Malaby, Ruth Catter, Naomi Downs, Barbara Funston and Audrey Buchanan.

The next meeting will be held January 19.

A luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. K. D. Fortney, Mrs. Eugene Funston, Mrs. Dale Suter, Mrs. Willis Ludwig and Mrs. Harold Stull.

After 1750 the Windsor or Philadelphia chair was made generally throughout Massachusetts.

Open House Held at Home Of Herrings

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herring, 419 West Third street, held open house yesterday afternoon from 4 to 7 p. m., honoring the engagement of their daughter, Jean Adele, to William Barris Martin, II, of Cleveland.

Mr. Martin is the son of Mrs. Rosalind Burnside Martin, of Shaker Heights and J. C. Martin of Cleveland.

Approximately 140 guests were received during the afternoon and early evening. Christmas greens and candles decorated the house and refreshments were served buffet style from a long table enhanced with yuletide appointments.

Out-of-town guest were: Mrs. Martin and her daughter, Robin, of Shaker Heights; Mrs. Perry Calvert, Shaker Heights; Mr. and Mrs. George Calvert, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. William Coughter, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Fabens, Bay Village and Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Claparols, Miss Mary Claparols and Thomas Walsh, all of Wooster.

BOXES PACKED

Friday night twenty teachers from St. Paul's Lutheran church were present at a party given at the home of Mrs. W. B. Linn, Shepard road. The group spent the evening packing boxes for the Sunday schools. A buffet luncheon was served by the hostess from a table decorated in the Christmas theme.

Covering the Younger Set

Just Ask Ann

Get your boots out, kids! It's finally snowed to stay a little while. Now the Christmas spirit will reign for this week.

Joe Hess looked quite cold this morning as he started out from the post office with a big load of Christmas cards to deliver. . . . Sue Belle Biddle didn't waste any time getting back to work. She came home from college on Friday and was at work in Reed's Saturday morning. . . . Ann Rich spent a good deal of time Saturday flitting from this store to that Christmas shopping and visiting with her former class mates. . . .

* * *

Say, kids, don't forget the big dance at the Y tonight. There'll be an orchestra and everything for the Christmas dance. . . . The "Christmas Sing," sponsored by the seniors was a big success even if the bleachers did fall during the evening. . . . O'Neil's have a good representation of MHS students working during the vacation days. . . .

* * *

Marian Haring and Elsie Kinkel are busy telling their friends all about their pledgeship to a sorority at Greenbrier college. . . . Carol Jean Ross is planning a visit to Mansfield during her Christmas vacation from Wooster college. She's hoping there will be a formal while she is here. . . . Nancy Galbraith will be home from Wooster until January 3. . . . Dorothy Zivkoff, who is getting her higher education at Ohio State university, will spend the holidays visiting around and catching up on the the latest news. . . .

* * *

The Rainbow formal held Friday captured the dancing feet of several MHS students. Gizella Knefely and Phil Bolin, Bernard Weaver and Diana Hoffman, Jay Herbert and Chole Snyder, Betsy Clark and Charles Green, and Merlyn Blackburn and Raymond Blatter are just a few who were present. . . . "Old home week" will no doubt be held at the Delta Sigma Zeta formal Monday, the 27th. Most of the college students are planning to attend. . . .

* * *

There should be a great deal of parties held during the holidays by the younger set of Mansfield. At least there are rumors of several in planning. . . . If you're going to have a party and need a novel centerpiece, try a paper Christmas tree. Take a tall white taper and cut cellophane in large squares for the bottom and gradually cut them smaller as you form the tree. Crinkle the paper and cut a small hole in the center and slip it over the candle. If you happen to have a small star button, cover it with red paper and place it at the top. Put the candle in a low holder and place before a mirror or something that will reflect. Honest it looks just like ice when you're finished. . . .

* * *

Merry Christmas to everyone!!!

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Monday, December 20

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for a definitely whirlwind and breath-taking crisis at once dynamic, constructive and dramatic. High stakes are in the balance, with every indication for a surprising turn of events, promising rich fulfillment of cherished objectives, hopes and wishes.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are justified in anticipating a sudden upheaval of whirlwind proportions, which may affect the life, bringing high adventure and romance. It will be dramatic and dynamic, probably uprooting from old fastnesses, and projecting them into the highlight of publicity, with promotion, fresh adventure, and surprising endorsement, with vivid recognition from those in advanced positions Be prepared for unique experiences or contacts in which power and increasing influence may prove perplexing or unbelievable.

A child born on this day is marked for sudden and surprising rise in life, with change, adventure and thrills projecting it on to undreamed heights of place, power and acclaim.

As early as 1725 Virginia was importing furniture from Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and employing some cabinetmakers to produce a considerable volume of fine furniture required by the important plantations.

SORORITY TO CAROL

A Christmas party for the members of Unit Four, Nu Phi Mu sorority was held Thursday night at 69 Bowman street. All of the guests brought a small exchange present which was placed under a brightly decorated Christmas tree. During the evening games were played and Miss Glenna Ryan, who was winner of the evening, was presented with a prize. Appropriate Christmas refreshments were served and later the guests opened their gifts. On Monday, Dec. 20, the group plans to go caroling. The next regular meeting will be Jan. 4.

Needlecraft Guild Meets At Renards

The Needlecraft guild of the Colony club met at the home of Mrs. Frank Renard, 451 Overlook road. The associate hostesses were Mrs. James Steele and Mrs. George Cassidy. Seventeen members were in attendance.

The members spent the evening making chair covers which are to be given to the Children's home for Christmas.

A dessert lunch was served at a late hour at a table decorated in blue and white.

The next meeting will be January 19 at the home of Mrs. George French, 355 Marion avenue.

Paul Revere the silvermaker and patriot died in 1818.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. Eva Wise entertained her twenty former employes of the Holly Shop at her home, 212 Helen avenue, with a Christmas party. Each guest wrote a letter to Santa Claus. Later he appeared portrayed by Mrs. C. H. Marks, who distributed the gifts. A poke lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Dems Name Caucus Date

WASHINGTON—(UP)—Caucus Chairman Aime J. Forand has called a house Democratic caucus for Jan. 1 to nominate candidates for speaker and other offices

The Rhode Island congressman said in a card addressed to all Democrats-elect of the House that the meeting would be held at 2 p. m.

Rep. Sam Rayburn, of Texas, who served as speaker before the Democrats lost control of the House in 1946, is certain to be renominated for his old post and is equally certain of election.

Rep. John McCormack, of Massachusetts, appears likely to win back his old job as Democratic leader without opposition. The caucus also will be called upon to fill six Democratic posts on the house ways and means committee.

2 Arrested In Cutting of Yule Trees

Brothers Traced Through Bill

A "delivery bill" for six sacks of cement has led to the arrest of two Sandusky brothers in the cutting of more than 100 Christmas trees on the farm of Philip Schmutzler near Adario.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson said today the "bill" was found near the area where the trees were cut. The bill led him to Sandusky, where he cantacted the two brothers about the tree cutting, the sheriff said.

The bill had been made out to their father, a Sandusky electrical store operator One of the two works for his father in the business The father wasn't involved, Robinson said

Sheriff Robinson identified the two as Dominic, 22, and Albert Fresch, 19 of Sandusky The sheriff said the two denied the charges, but later attempted through their attorney to make a settlement with Schmutzler. Deputy Harold Marvin was to return the two to Mansfield this afternoon.

Schmutzler, after talking with officials of the state reforestation service at Wooster, which supplied the trees decided to file an affidavit against the two

SAYS BILL DROPPED

When confronted with the bill, Dominic said that he has been taking flying lessons and dropped the bill out the plane window while in the Mansfield area, the sheriff said

The bill was recovered at a spot where a large truck had been mired in the mud after the trees were cut. The pine trees were cut about Dec. 6, and a truck had been seen in the vicinity, which apparently was to be used to carry away the trees. However, the tree-cutters were scared away, deputies said.

Assistant Prosecutor Claude F Ewing said the two are being charged with cutting trees on the land of another with intent to injure the other in his property. That statute calls for a sentence of one to three years in prison, on conviction, if the damage was more than $35 The trees were estimated to cost about $300, Ewing said.

2 Quizzed In Profits Probe

WASHINGTON—(UP)—A congressional subcommittee today called two of the nation's biggest industrialists to tell about their companies' profits

Charles E. Wilson president of General Electric company, was the first scheduled witness as the joint economic subcommittee resumed hearings on corporation profits.

Wilson was to be followed by M E Coyle, executive vice-president of General Motors corporation

Movie-Goers Get Chance To Share Fun

Tomorrow morning Mansfielders will share their Christmas with needy families and see a program of movie entertainment in return for their generosity

The Park theater and the Salvation Army will hold a "canned goods" movie party at the theater beginning at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow Admission will be a can of food

All canned goods received at the special show will be turned over to the Salvation Army to be used for their annual Christmas basket program for needy Mansfield families

The two-hour show will include a western feature, a two-reel comedy, a two-reel musical, and four cartoons

The show is not limited to children. Adults also may attend.

Lectures On World Faith

Mrs Ruth Moffett, internationally known lecturer, spoke on "Reversing World Tides" at a meeting of the Mansfield chapter of the Baha'i World Faith at the Mansfield-Leland hotel Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Moffett pictured world conditions which follow war and leave behind "political, religious, and racial prejudices, broken families, juvenile delinquency, economic inequalities and political upheavals

"All thinking people known that a crisis is approaching and thousands of man-made plans and theories have been invented and tried in order to prevent this catastrophe," Mrs Moffett said "Only the Baha'i World Faith, however, sees the problems as one and offers a solution."

A tea was held in connection with Mrs Moffett's talk.

Stocks Drift Downward In Slow Market, Light Trading

NEW YORK—(UP)—Stocks drifted lower today in a quiet market without feature.

Prices were mostly fractions lower but some edged down around a point. Those pushing higher were held to gains or less than a point.

The volume of trading was restricted, and it was noted that activity perked up a bit in lower movements and dried up when prices turned around and headed higher.

Among the major ... rails were the most active and irregularly lower. Motion pictures enjoyed a measure of popularity and held steady.

Airlines, although not particularly active, were almost all higher. Steels and Motors, on the other hand, took the downside in a listless manner

8 Violators Fined $110

Eight traffic law violators were fined a total of $110 and costs in municipal court today.

Gilmore W. Towler, 152 Ford street, was fined $50 and costs for having physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Lowell L. Vanwinkle, 286 Myers avenue, paid $15 and costs and lost his right to drive for 30 days after pleading guilty to a charge of unsafe operation.

Fined $10 and costs were Douglas R. Bonecutter, of Shelby, and Julius Johnson of East Canton, for improper passing, and David A. Miller of Mansfield for operating on more than one-half of the highway.

Five dollar fines were assessed against Floyd C. West, 1062 Olivesburg road, for improper lights and Charles Thompson, of Akron, and Clyde Stanford of Mt. Vernon, for crossing the yellow line.

Lucas Calls Two Pastors

LUCAS—Two Lutheran Congregations of the Lucas parish yesterday voted to call Rev. Edward P. Scharf, DD, of Casstown, as their pastor and the two Congregational churches in the area announced temporary appointment of Rev. Allen Wheaton, of Lincoln Heights, a student at Ashland college.

St. Paul's and Pleasant Valley Lutheran churches and Lucas and Little Washington Congregational churches have been without pastors since early last summer when their ministers moved to larger pastorates.

Rev. Scharf expects to assume his new charge about Jan. 5. Rev. Wheaton, who does not expect to move here, already is filling the pulpits here.

Hotel Official To Address Club

Capt. H. Mowrey, secretary of the Ohio Hotel association, will entertain the Rotary club at its weekly meeting tomorrow noon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel with a talk entitled "Some Customers Are Funny."

The talk will include many amusing experiences hotel men have had with their clientele, which have been related to the speaker. He also will describe behand-the-scenes phases of hotel management.

Joseph Wright will be in charge of the program.

'Unloaded' Rifle Causes Leg Wound

The gun "that he didn't know was loaded" shot Alvin Watkins, 22½ North Diamond street in the leg yesterday.

The gun went off as he was demonstrating to friends how he had shot a rabbit with his 22 caliber rifle. The bullet struck him in the left leg above the knee.

He was treated and released at General hospital.

Youth, 10, Entertains

Highlighting the program for the Mansfield Youth for Christ rally at the John Simpson auditorium Saturday night were the four saxophone solos played by 10-year-old Billy Slip jr., son of the speaker, Rev. Billy Slip of Toledo.

Costumed in a cowboy suit, Billy entertained the audience with his playing.

Rev. Slip urged the young people present to seek and to serve God while they are still young and resourceful.

Miss Mary Nash, a student at the Nyack Missionary Training Institute in Nyack, N. Y., sang two soprano solos; Harold Byers, student from Ashland college was accompanist for Miss Nash's solos as well as for the audience singing. They sang mostly Christmas carols, led by George McNair.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m., Jan. 29. Dr. Robert J. Wells, evangelist who spoke in Mansfield last spring, will be the speaker. The first anniversary of the Youth for Christ rally will be observed at that time.

Sing Carols In Homes

Special services by the Greek Orthodox church will be held Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. and on Friday at 9:30 a. m.

These two services will start a week's celebration of the Christmas season by the church. Additional services will be held at 6 p. m. Friday with Rev. James Gougoutas, pastor of the church and teacher of the Greek school, and children of the school singing carols at many Greek homes in the city. Children of the school include: Foto Z. Theoharis, Bessie Z. Gougoutas, Frances Breres, Jackie Gougoutas, George N. Genovas, Adam P. Angelas, and Harry Z. Theoharis.

On Christmas day at 10 a. m. there will be special prayers for the United States, benefactor of Greece, with Rev. Gougoutas presiding. The choir, led by Miss Lily Ketruvis, will sing.

Steel Demand Remains Ahead of Production

CLEVELAND — (AP) — No slackening demand for steel has resulted despite some production cutbacks and labor curtailments, the magazine Steel said today.

The magazine said there is market spottiness, particularly in household appliances, but.

"Increased caution by industrial purchasers has not affected demand except in the gray market where increased resistance to high prices is reported."

Most producing mills will begin 1948 with substantial order backlogs, Steel said.

"Consuming requirements will continue well in excess of supplies for some months to come. Particular stringency is indicated in sheets, strip, pipe, and plates through the first half of 1949 at least, with the situation in bars, shapes and certain wire items only slightly less acute."

Consumers are still uncertain as to how much tonnage they can expect to receive during first quarter, Steel said.

"In some cases tonnage has been allotted only through January, and in some other through February. In sheets, for example, the great proportion of hot and cold-rolled tonnage has not been allotted beyond February, except for priority work. In the east a particularly severe pinch in carbon bars appears in prospect."

Steelmaking operations continue to hold close to the recently established all-time high, Steel said.

"Output in the first 11 months of the year totaled 80,737,800 net tons. With production through December holding close to the November high, rate indications are output for 1948 will total around 88,500,000 tons. Output in 1947 was less than 85,000,000."

The market is quiet with respect to prices, Steel said.

Actor Reaches Pinnacle of Fame, Then Wants to Leave Profession

NEW YORK—(AP)—Jose Ferrer, the most envied actor on Broadway today, has a simple professional ambition.

"My goal in the theater," he said, "is to get out of the theater."

This attitude would be easily understandable in one who had flopped. It sounded odd coming from a man who only last month got the finest accolade from critics of any actor since John Barrymore hit the jackpot in "Hamlet."

But Ferrer, star of "The Silver Whistle," doesn't find too much to whistle over in his new fame. He is in somewhat the position of a man who suddenly achieved a lifelong goal to be a lighthouse keeper—and then found the view from the top boring.

Actor friends tell Ferrer he is lucky because he is in a hit play that may last for years. And this is the prospect that rather appalls him.

"It means," he lamented over a well-poached egg, "that I'll have to say the same lines, over and over, eight times a week for perhaps two or three years. That's no way to live."

Ferrer—pronounced "for air"—said he felt the twin evils of the American theater are its insecurity of employment and overemphasis on new hit plays.

"I don't particularly like the life I lead," he said. "For the simple reason I don't usually know whether I'm going to eat next year.

"When I was a kid there were ninety theaters on Broadway. Now there are about thirty.

"Today an actor no longer can afford to plan a career in the theater alone. To stay alive he also has to go into the movies, radio or television."

Ferrer thinks the ideal compromise has been made by Laurence Olivier, the English actor, who appears in one movie and "five or six plays a year." And he believes many of the troubles of the American theater would be solved if more encouragement were given to playwrights.

"The American public knows hardly anything about its own writers," he said. "They write fine plays here, but after they are put on once the plays are done with—thrown away.

"And by the time a playwright has learned his trade he has starved to death."

Ferrer, a pleasant, mobile-featured man of 36, laughed then and said cheerfully:

"I know this may sound a little ungrateful, but it's really a kind of luxury to me. Nobdy listens to an actor's gripes when he's out of work."

He has a common-sense, down-to-earth view of the stage.

"The chief requirement of an actor is exhibitionism—of one kind or another. It's childish—but in a healthy way.

"The average actor is less likely to be neurotic than any other kind of artist. It's easier for him to express himself, and, of course, he gets to hear the applause."

At present Ferrer appears in no imminent danger of starvation. He can stand on 47th and Broadway and see his name in lights over two productions—his dramatic play and the movie "Joan of Arc."

He's just a man in love with insecurity.

Calling President 'Trusvelt' a Compliment, Columnist Declares

MEMOS OF A GIRL FRIDAY

Dear Mr. W.: We had some complaints from readers who think calling him President Trusevelt is not nice. I replied you considered it a high compliment (comparing him to the great wartime chief), since so many meanies on editorial pages kept calling him "Horsemeat Harry" or "High Taxes Harry." Frankly, I think you oughta cut it out because many more pro-FDR people are squawking.

I saw a piece in the paper which said pickets outside Carnazi Hall did not prevent a capacity house from witnessing Flagstad. I can remember when Fritz Kuhn and his German-American Bundists packed Madison Square Garden.

Publishers of La Summersby's book phoned. Quite perturbed about various items appearing here and there. Claim it's a smear campaign. That her dog's collar is marked Telak, not Eisenhower....Jacqueline Susann wants to get into the act. Says she ackchelly knows a new model with one of those trick names. Calls herself Leva Malone.

Ruth Waldo all mended. She's handling those personalized decanters of Sir John Schenley.... The Norman Corwins (Kath Locke) will co-star in a new Broadway play.....I hear the Trib editor offered Moss Hart an equal amount of space to reply to the thing written by Billy Rose the night before it ran. I don't know why Mr. Rose got so sore. He told me he loved the show as the finish "made me a hero."

★

Gladys Glad phoned. Said she hoped to keep her marriage quiet until after New Year's, "but that guy is scoop-crazy!" I told her:

"Mark wasn't, I suppose!" She laughed and said she was very happy and that she got a big kick out of the orchids just before the ceremony.

I guess you know about all the pipple over at Timagazine getting out — fired and otherwise. The Washington chief (Hulburd) goes Jan. 1. Boy, did he slant captions and the news when he didn't like a person!

Objective reporting, my foot. Ain't you glad you lived this long to see your arguments confirmed about people like them?....I hear the resigned Time editor disclosure (Chambers being an ex-Communist) brought in a bunch of subscription cancellations. Stoo bad.

Anyone point out yet that if Whittaker Chambers is a Quaker, he is defying a concept of that faith by testifying under oath? Quakers believe we should all be so truthful there's no need to take an oath that we are not falsifying. A double standard, in fewer words.

Indianapolis attorneys for the late Pearl H. Malott report that her will says: "I give and bequeath to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund $20,000." How about giving it all back to Indiana University if they have a cancer lab? She'd like that.

Boy, has New York characters? The heir to a shoe fortune throws parties to which chorines must bring along their swim suits.

Bawzmestiff ..... Psychiatrists could get a very Freudian solution as to why Whittaker Chambers "is getting even" with Alger Hiss. They once were devoted pals (as the saying doesn't go).

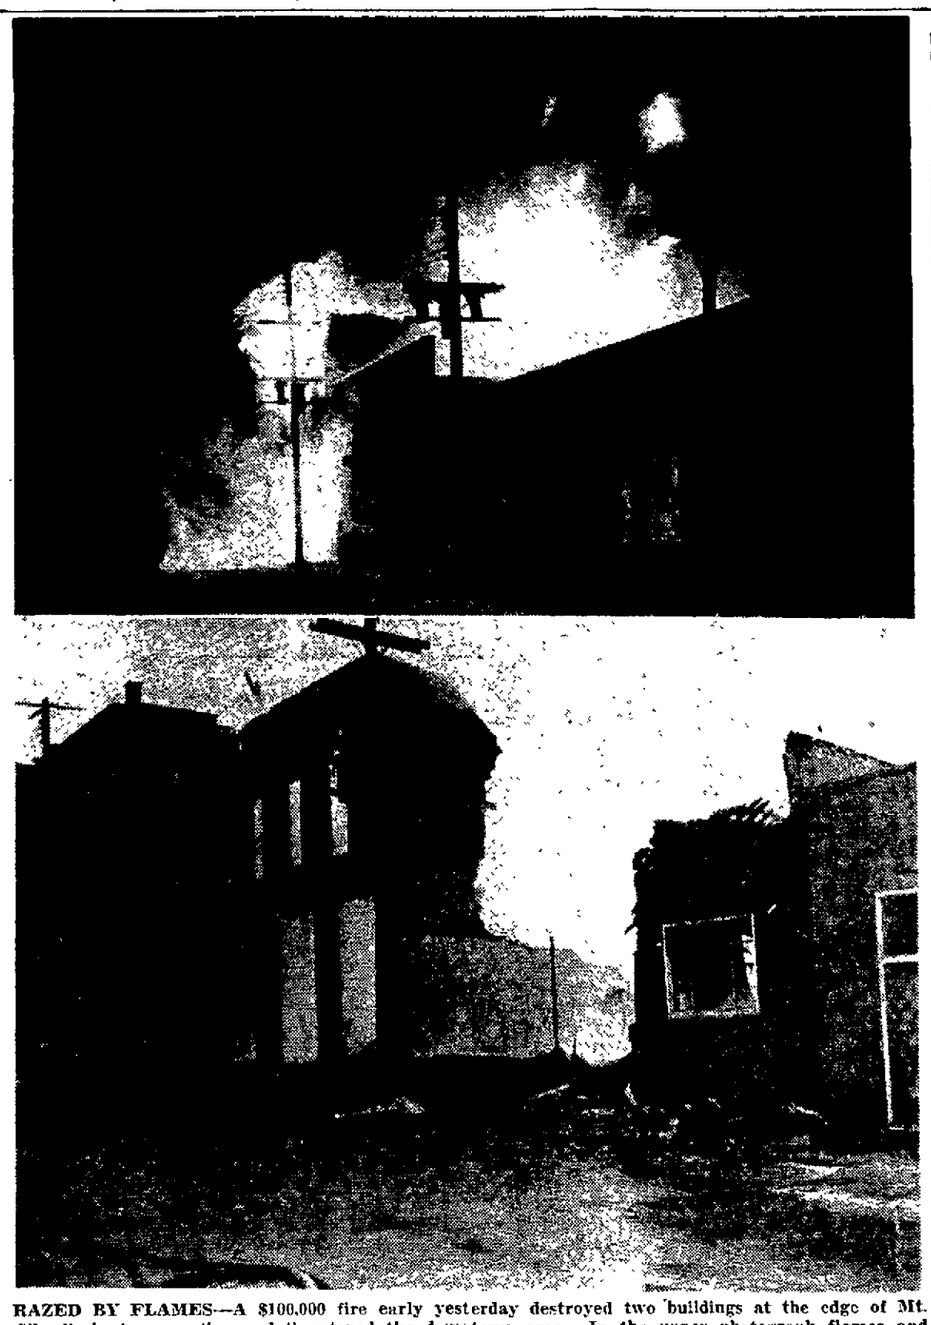
Mt. Gilead Hit By $100,000 Blaze

MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL

MONDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1948 PAGE THIRTEEN



RAZED BY FLAMES—A $100,000 fire early yesterday destroyed two buildings at the edge of Mt. Gilead's business section and threatened the downtown area. In the upper photograph flames and smoke are billowing skyward in the early morning darkness. The lower picture shows the ruins of the two-story brick building of the Denton Seed House and the adjoining one-story Myers and Strain garage. Only building shells remain with debris littering West Center street in front of the concerns.

Garage, Store Gutted

Flames Threaten Business Area

By TERRY GRIFFITH
(Staff Correspondent)

MT. GILEAD — Defective wiring was blamed today for a $100,000 fire that threatened for a time to wipe out a fourth of the business section here early yesterday. Four out-of-town fire companies assisted in battling the blaze.

The flames destroyed two West Center street buildings and damaged slightly an adjacent building. The two-story brick building housing the Denton Seed House was destroyed as was the single-story Myers and Strain garage, Fire Chief Melvin Geyer reported. The Lawyer Farm Implement store, next to the garage, was damaged. Much of the loss was covered by insurance.

The first alarm was sounded at 5:15 a. m. Sunday and the fire was under control at 7:30 a. m. The main business section is across the alley from the Denton building and minor fires there were controlled easily by firemen from Edison, Cardington, Galion and the Marion Ordnance depot who assisted the local volunteer organization.

HEAVY SEED LOSS

The Denton Seed House, formerly the U. J. Cover Seed company, was operated by Richard and Goorley Denton and at least $30,000 worth of seeds were destroyed by the flames, the owners estimated. R. E. Strain and R. P. Myers operate the garage which is a Dodge-Plymouth automobile agency.

Three wrecked cars, that couldn't be moved, and large tools were included in the garage fire loss.

Sufficient water pressure minimized the threat as the flames lighted the sky and attracted motorists and local residents.

Girl Scouts Sing To Patients

Visit Sanatorium, Aid City's Needy

Mansfield Girl Scouts are demonstrating their Christmas spirit in a number of projects this week.

Members of Senior Girl Scout troop 22 will meet at the Richland County TB Sanatorium at 7:15 tonight to sing Christmas carols in the halls for 20 minutes. After the caroling they will present 15 paper poinsetia plants, made by the girls, to patients at the sanatorium.

The girls will then go to the home of their leader, Mrs. Charles Orr, 446 Shepard road, for a Christmas party with dancing and refreshments.

Hostesses for the party will be Nelaura Orr, Janice Smith, and Mary Lou McCullough.

Mrs. Marion Ward is assistant leader of the troop.

Tomorrow 19 members of Brownie troop 15 of Carpenter school will meet at the home of their leader, Mrs. G. E. Bennett, Lexington avenue, for a Christmas party. They will take to the party toys and clothing for needy children which the troop has been collecting. The Christmas articles will be presented to the Salvation Army for distribution.

Mrs. Jack Charters is assistant leader of the toop.

Brownie troop 56 is inviting two small girls who will not have much for Christmas to their Christmas party tomorrow at the home of their leader, Mrs. Emmett Casey, 496 Woodward avenue. Following supper and entertainment they will sing Christmas carols in Central park and at Mansfield General hospital.

The troop also is filling two Christmas baskets for needy Mansfield families.

Brownie troop 74 has collected and gift-wrapped 24 cans of food to be given to the Salvation Army for distribution at Christmas time.

Mrs. Dean Fighter is leader of the troop and Mrs. Warren Lewis assistant leader.

Optimist Club To Hold Party

The Optimist club will hold its annual Christmas party Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. at the Richland Recreation Center.

The club will have as its guests the Rinky-Dinks club from the Friendly house, the boys from the Children's home, and the Richland Recreation Center pin boys.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Humdinger barbershop quartet. Accordionist Paul Baich, some of the Amvet minstrel performers, and others. Maurice Taylor, general secretary of the YMCA, will give a short talk.

Master of ceremonies will be Gil Baird.

Wilson Infant Taken By Death

The two-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Wilson, 100½ West Fourth street, died in General hospital Sunday.

Surviving, besides his parents, are one brother, Donald, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Wilson of Mansfield and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Schayes of Washington, Pa.

Services are to be conducted this afternoon at the grave in the Mansfield cemetery with Rev. David N. Roller officiating.

50 Children To See Show

Firm Host To Home Residents

Fifty children from the Children's home will be the guests of Gordon Y. Sowash of Sowash Cleaners at the 7 p. m. performance tomorrow of "The Best Is Yet to Come," monthly stage show sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Tickets have been purchased for all children from the home old enough to enjoy the show.

The Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., will provide transportation for the children to and from Johnny Appleseed junior high school auditorium where the show will be given.

Jaycee officials said 100 tickets for the 7 p. m. show will be available at the door tomorrow night. Tickets for the second performance at 9:30 p. m. also will be available at the door.

Charlie Fisk's band and a number of top vaudeville acts will be featured at the two programs tomorrow. Miss Beverly Wentz, Mansfield soprano, will be the guest star.

Mansfield's second honor citizen of the month will be presented at both performances. The Mansfielder, chosen by a committee made up of representatives of Mansfield civic organizations, will receive a jeweled pin from the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Funds from the monthly shows are being used to build ice skating ponds at the county Fairground and other convenient spots in Mansfield.

Santa Cheers Many Children With Gifts

Santa Claus was a busy man over the week end.

Saturday afternoon he appeared at the Elks club where 55 youngsters from the Richland County Children's Home were being entertained by members of the lodge and where supper was served to the group at 5 p. m.

But first Santa distributed a sack of candy and a brand new dollar bill to each of the 55 children. Then Christmas films were provided by Harry Delaney. Supper was in charge of William Miller, club secretary, and Mrs. Edith Metcalf had charge of decorating the tables in holiday style. O. I. Alverson, exalted ruler, presided at the party.

Three Christmas parties entertained children of the American Legion, Amvets and the Knights of Columbus Sunday afternoon.

At the Legion home, where 450 children were entertained, they were given their gifts cafeteria style. As they passed a line of Legionnaires, they first were given an empty bag. Subsequently, they received, to fill the bag, peanuts, popcorn balls, candy, oranges and apples.

For entertainment, John Grabler sang children's carols and accompanied himself on the accordion. James Brownscombe led the entire group of children and their parents in the singing of Christmas songs.

After the party, Legionnaires took crates of popcorn to the Children's home, the Salvation Army and Friendly House and peanuts to each resident of the Children's home and the Salvation Army.

ENTERTAINED WITH MOVIES

At the Knights of Columbus home, Sherman avenue, 400 children were entertained with Christmas films and given stockings filled with toys and candy. Of course Santa appeared and helped in the distribution of gifts.

Cookies and coffee were provided for the parents and orange pop for the youngsters.

"It was the biggest party we've had for the children," James Carrigan said today.

At the Amvet club, 80 children almost refused to go home, they were having such a good time. With Robert Miller as master of ceremonies and Robert Kaser leading the singing, the 80 were entertained during the afternoon.

There were magic acts by Larry Rupert and a ventriloquist act by Jay Herbert. In addition, there were Christmas movies.

Later the children danced around the big tree where Santa distributed their "treats." Christmas cookies were handed out for refreshments by Mrs. Ernest Yocum and her committee.

Blame Loneliness In Suicide Of Trailer City Man, 82

An 82-year-old Trailer City resident, believed to have become despondent over his solitary existence, was found dead outside his trailer about 8 a. m. Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies identified the man as John S. Montieth, a native of Plymouth. Coroner D. C. Lavender ruled death was caused by a self-inflicted bullet wound from a .32 calibre revolver.

A note, reported to have described his loneliness, was found inside the trailer.

Fond of children, Mr. Montieth had frequently stayed with the children of Senior High Coach and Mrs. Harry Mehock.

Mr. Montieth operated a grocery store in Plymouth several years and in cities throughout the southwest. He returned to his area two years ago from Roswell, N. Mex., where he had spent 12 years. He was born Nov. 10, 1866 in Plymouth and spent his early youth in the vicinity.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. B. E. Kuhn and Mrs. Will L. May of Shelby; a brother, William Montieth of Crestline; and several nieces and nephews. His wife died several years ago. He had no children.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Garverick funeral home in Crestline. Rev. D. D. Dillon, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will officiate and burial will be in Plymouth cemetery.
